VANDALS ARE DETERMINED—A week ago yesterday, a delegation from Novato's Seventh-Day Adventist Church carefully replaced gravestones in old Novato Cemetery in proper up right position. But by yesterday, they had been tipped over again by vandals. Here is how some of them looked today, despite the efforts of the church group. "We'll put them up again," vowed Averett Higbee, leader of the Seventh-Day Adventist delegation. (Independent-Journal photo)

Father Of Three Killed As Auto Strikes Tree

Wolfe Grade Wreck Puts Fatalities At 25

A 22-year-old Kentfield laborer, father of three children, was killed yesterday when his car slammed into an oak tree on Wolfe Grade just above Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Dale Eugene Camden was apparently headed toward home at 147 Kent Avenue when his small foreign car crossed the road, went through about 20 feet of brush and hit the tree, the California Highway Patrol reported. Its speed was estimated as only about 25 miles per hour. The patrol found no evidence of mechanical failure.

He was found in the car behind the steering wheel. The car was equipped with seat belts, but the belt had not been fastened.

DISCOVERED CAR

A passing motorist, Ronald Husby of 247 D Street, San Rafael, saw the smashed car shortly after 6 a.m. He notified San Rafael police, who called the highway patrol.

Camden was dead when the ambulance bearing him reached Marin General Hospital at 6:40 a.m.

CHANGED NAME

Camden had recently changed his last name from Silveira. He was employed by Eichler Homes. Earlier, he had been a dishwasher at Pete's Pier 16 in Sausalito, and reportedly came to Marin County shortly before starting work there three years ago.

He leaves a wife, Mary Ann, and three children, Laura, Dale and John.

His death was the 25th this year in Marin County traffic, compared to 19 to this date last year.

No funeral arrangements had yet been made today.

Kennedy Signs A-Test Ban Documents

Promises U.S. Will Follow Pact In 'Letter, Spirit'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy today signed four documents formally ratifying the historic nuclear test ban treaty for the United States and called it a "first fruit of hope" for world peace. (See photo, page 4)

The President promised that this country would follow "the letter and the spirit" of the pact outlawing all but underground nuclear tests. He urged all other nations to do the same to ensure that the fruit of hope will be followed by "larger harvests."

'MUST KEEP VIGIL'

At the same time, he added, Americans "can and must still keep our vigil while pressing with others toward peace.

The past decade of the atomic age has brought the world both fear and hope, he said. "Today the fear is a little less and the hope a little greater."

The signing ceremony took place in the green-walled treaty room, reopened in June, 1962, after being refurbished in the style of the Grant era. Decorated with copies of treaties signed by former presidents, the room was last used for the signing of a major pact in August, 1898, when the peace protocol was signed with Spain.

A host of members of Congress and administration officials who had a hand in the treaty negotiating last summer watched as Kennedy signed four copies of the so-called instruments of ratification, using 16 pens. The job took three minutes.

FOR ARCHIVES

The treaty will go into effect on Thursday, when the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union — the three original signatories — each deposits copies of the ratification papers in each other's capitals.

Kennedy signed one each for deposit in Washington, London and Moscow, as well as a fourth to be preserved in the national archives.

Among the dozen senators of both parties present was Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who received one of the pens Kennedy used. Dirksen's impassioned Senate speech in support of the treaty has been credited with overcoming some legislator's opposition and winning bipartisan backing. The Senate ratified the treaty by an 80 to 19 vote Sept. 24.

SCHOOL BOND, TAX VOTE TOMORROW

Fate Of San Rafael Elementary, High School Building Program Is In Hands Of Voters

The fate of San Rafael's school building program will be decided at the polls tomorrow.

Three issues will be before voters in the San Rafael Elementary School District, which includes the city plus San Quentin, Santa Venetia, San Rafael Meadows, Los Ranchitos, and the areas along Point San Pedro Road which are not within city limits.

A single issue will face voters in Dixie and San Jose Elementary School Districts, which are within San Rafael High School District.

The two San Rafael Elementary District measures are bond issues. No. 1 would authorize issuing up to $3,300,000 in bonds—as rapidly as the district's bonding capacity permits—for school construction and site purchase. No. 2 would authorize a $670,000 bond issue to add multi-purpose rooms to nine elementary schools.

The high school district measure is for a tax increase. It would lift the ceiling on the high school district's operating tax from $1.25 to $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation. (Debt payments and "over-ride" taxes are in addition to this, totaling 43 cents on the tax rate this year.) The new ceiling would prevail indefinitely.

Although the increase would be in the operating tax rate, this is, in part, also a building measure. The San Rafael Board of Education is committed to use part of the tax increase over the next four or five years to add classrooms at San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools, shops, classrooms and girls' gymnasium at Terra Linda High, and bring the old main building at San Rafael High up to present state building standards. This work, in addition to projects already under way at Terra Linda High (financed from an earlier bond issue) would give each of the two high schools a "rated capacity" of 2,000 students and actual limit of 2,400.

The three financial proposals were worked out by a citizen committee headed by W. W. Gudmundson, and a concentrated campaign for passage has been staged by another citizen committee headed by Frank M. Parker. There has been no campaign against the measures.

The bond measures require two-thirds "yes" vote for passage. The tax increase requires only a simple majority.

According to the county clerk's office, 13,423 voters are eligible to ballot within the elementary school district. In the high school district, the total registered is 19,816.

Polling places, to be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., may be swamped. The San Rafael schools department has set up only 18 of them, compared to 42 within the high school district for last April's municipal election.

Charles L. Condrotte, business manager for San Rafael schools, said the 18 polling places were considered enough on recommendations from the county schools and county counsel's offices.

There will be 10 polling places in San Rafael Elementary School District—one at San Rafael High School, one at each elementary school except Laurel Dell Intermediate, but none at either of the junior high schools.

In the high school district outside, there will be eight polling places. Six of these are in Dixie School District: at Hoffman, Santa Margarita, Don Timoteo, Silveira and Lucas Valley schools. Two are in San Jose School District: at Loma Verde and Lynwood schools.

Prescription Blanks Bring About Arrest

A 30-year-old Petaluma man was jailed Saturday on suspicion of forging prescription blanks stolen from a San Rafael doctor on Sept. 1.

Held on $5,500 bail was Herman Baldazan Montoya, charged with trying to pass a forged prescription, forgery, conspiracy, receiving stolen goods, and grand theft.

Attempts to use the forged prescriptions have been made in Fairfax, Mill Valley and Corte Madera, police reported.

Montoya was arrested by Corte Madera police after he tried to pass a prescription at the Thrifty Drug Store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center at 3:30 p.m.

Mill Valley police reported that a prescription for the drug methedrene was filled by Rutherford's Drug Store earlier in the day for a person fitting Montoya's description.

Both prescriptions were stolen from a car parked in the parking lot of San Rafael General Hospital belonging to Dr. Richard B. Redalia of 23 Cabrillo Court, San Rafael.

The doctor's prescription blanks were also used by a person seeking methedrine at the Rexall Drug Store in Fairfax. Pharmacist Elvin Andrade became suspicious Saturday and telephoned police. The suspect fled.

Andrade, according to Police Chief James Orr of Fairfax, said Montoya wasn't the same person, although "there was a resemblance."

Orr said there had also been an attempt to have one of the prescriptions filled at the Bank Pharmacy at 83 Broadway, Fairfax, on Friday.

Robert Gomez Gem Case Is Dismissed

A robbery-conspiracy charge against jeweler J. Robert Gomez of Mill Valley was dismissed in San Francisco Superior Court today because of lack of corroborating testimony from the accomplices.

Gomez was accused of masterminding two San Francisco jewel robberies totaling $112,000. He was tried in January and the jury split 7-to-5 (whether with a majority for conviction or acquital was never announced.)

Deputy Dist. Atty. Francis Mayer of San Francisco said the case was dismissed "because of the reluctances of witnesses" to testify. He said the law requires the corroborating testimony of accomplices and "we didn't have it."

At the January trial, Matt Davis of Larkspur said Gomez was the ringleader in planning the robberies. Davis said he was the liaison between Gomez and convicted jewel thief David Windham, who staged the robberies.

Pro-Castro Terrorists Kill Three In Caracas

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — Pro-Castro terrorists hit-run attacks brought death today to at least three persons and injuries to 10 others, spreading new alarm in heavily patroled Caracas.

The casualties now total at least 10 killed and 20 wounded in the "revenge toll" for 48 hours exacted by the underground armed forces for national liberation in retaliation for the government's new "gloves-off" campaign against the Communists.

Boy, 7, Injured As Car Hits Him

A 7-year-old Tiburon boy was slightly injured today when knocked down by a car as he ran across Tiburon Boulevard on his way to Reed School.

Richard Coffee, stepson of Melvin Kobretz of 28 Marinero Circle, ran in front of a westbound car driven by Martin Joseph Bramante, 43, of 45 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, about 9:20 a.m., the California Highway Patrol reported.

Bramante slammed on the brakes and his car skidded broadside, knocking over the boy. Richard was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises of right arm and elbow and a bump on his forehead, then returned home.

Adventurers Are Reported Safe

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (UPI) — Fourteen Americans and three Mexicans who were feared lost in the wild canyon country of Northwestern Mexico are all safe, a pilot reported from the scene today. (See also story, page 5)

Jesus Acosta Munoz, a pilot who took U.S. Vice Consul Robert Homer to the area where the men were feared lost radioed back that all were safe.

Acosta Munoz said he was able to land and talk with the explorers and said they were in good shape.

San Geronimo Maps Wins Plan Approval

A new zoning map for San Geronimo Valley, outlining the commercial areas and putting the rest of the valley in larger residential lots ranging from 10,000 square feet to one acre, today won unanimous approval.

Recommendation for the new zoning will go to the Marin County board of supervisors on Oct. 15, at which time the supervisors will set a public hearing date.

Orville Yerion's trailer court in Forest Knolls is included in the commercial area under the new zoning plan. Also included in commercial will be the Lagunitas Lodge in Lagunitas and Villa Luchesi in San Geronimo.

Strongest objection to the one-acre residential lots came from architectural designer David Elliott Stovel, representing Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Groody of Mill Valley. The Groodys own five acres of hill land in San Geronimo on the south side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, along Creamery Way.

"It is not logical to suddenly interject acre sites next to 10,000-square foot lots," declared Stovel. "We propose 20,000-square foot lots for a Kent Woodlands type of development.

"I'm just curious why a real estate company nearby gets its land zoned for 10,000 square foot lots while ours are acre lots."

The Groody property can be reconsidered when the land comes up for development, chairman Niels Schultz Jr. announced.

Vandals Push Over Old Gravestones

It took vandals less than a week to knock over the gravestones which had been set back up in the old Novato cemetery on Simmons Lane, by a delegation from the Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

A group of 20 people, headed by Averett Higbee, spent Sunday, Sept. 29, re-erecting 44 of the stones which had been knocked down in the old cemetery. They cleared the space around the graves and reset most of the stones in the cemetery.

By yesterday, most of the stones had been knocked down again by vandals. Dirt was uprooted in some places where the stones had been set.

"We are going back next Sunday and set them into place a second time," Higbee said today. This time, there will be about 30 people from the church doing the work. We'll use stronger mortar, too." He also invited any volunteer labor to join the group.

Police Chief Roy McLaren said he would ask night patrolmen to check the cemetery.

The item has been placed on the agenda of the Novato city council for tomorrow night, according to city administrator J. Julien Baget.

"This helps point up that the ownership and responsibility for maintaining the cemetery should be definitely settled," Baget said.

Title to the cemetery rests in an old cemetery corporation, of which Russell and Gooch of Mill Valley, Mill Valley mortuary firm, is principal owner, Baget said.

Rights Group Wins Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Rights Commission won a temporary extension of its life today.

The House by a roll call vote of 265 to 80 sent to the President a bill renewing for one year the statutory authority of the commission, which ran out Sept. 30.

The extension is designed merely to keep the commission operating until Congress can act on an omnibus civil rights bill.

New Marines Head Formally Nominated

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy formally nominated Lt. Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr. today to be commandant of the Marine Corps.

Greene was nominated for promotion to the rank of full general. He will serve for four years, starting Jan. 1, as a successors to Gen. David M. Shoup.

Cuba Balks On Treaty, Wants Policy Change

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Cuba announced today that it will not sign the Moscow nuclear test ban treaty until the United States changes its policy toward Fidel Castro's government.

Cuban Ambassador Carlos Lechuga, in a policy speech prepared for delivery in the General Assembly, said also that Castor's government would oppose a denuclearized zone for Latin America unless the United States gave up its Guantanamo Bay base and included the Panama Canal Zone, Puerto Rico and other military bases in the hemisphere in any such agreement.

Troops Withdrawn

ALGIERS (UPI) — The Defense Ministry anounced today that Morocco had agreed to withdraw its troops massed "10 yards" from the Algerian frontier. The decision permits President Ahmed Ben Bella to concentrate his military strength against a Berber uprising.

Diem Opens His Hand-Picked Assembly, Says Reds Losing

FATHER, DAUGHTER DISAGREE—Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu (left) due to arrive in the U.S. today from a European vacation, and her father, former South Viet Nam Ambassador Tran Van Chuong, disagree sharply over their nation's policies. Mrs. Nhu is to plead her cause before the United Nations. Chuong, who resigned his post saying his country is misusing American funds, calls his daughter a headline hunter. (AP Wirephotos)

Asserts Buddhist Problem Settled; U.N. Debate Set

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—President Ngo Dinh Diem said today the Communists are losing the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam.

In an address opening the National Assembly, Diem said the Communist Viet Cong faces the "eventuality of an inescapable defeat."

He also told his hand-picked assembly, in which there are no opposition parties, that South Viet Nam's Buddhist "problem" had been settled. His regime's recent crackdown on the Buddhist is to be debated in the U.N. General Assembly, beginning this afternoon.

POLICE IN FORCE

Speaking while police enforced maximum security regulations in downtown Saigon, Diem said:

"At this very moment, it is with regret that we see some countries, intoxicated by false information on the situation in Viet nam and on the Buddhist question in particular, request and obtain inclusion in the United Nations agend of a problem already settled."

In New York, 16 Asian, African and Latin American nations planned to introduce a resolution calling on U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to intercede in behalf of the Buddhists.

MISSION TO U.N.

Diem has sent a special six-man mission to the U.N. to defend his government.

South Viet Nam is expected to counter the criticism in the assembly with an invitation to an international inspection team to see the situation first hand.

Diem again said the Buddhist crisis was Communist inspired as "an ultimate maneuver" to avert inevitable defeat.

He said declaration of martial law after the wave of Buddhist demonstrations and suicides "permitted the unmasking of the Communists and their accomplices, and now a tempered, free Viet Nam emerges from this undeniably great trial through having victoriously surmounted this new assault of Communist conspiracy."

He also praised his armed forces for several "major victories" in the Mekong Delta, where communist resistance has been strongest.

OVER LOUDSPEAKERS

Diem's speech was broadcast throughout Saigon over street loudspeakers.

Absent at the first session of the National Assembly was Diem's fiery sister-in-law and official hostess, Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, who begins a three-week tour of the United States today to defend the Diem regime.

Mrs. Nhu and her husband, the head of the secret police, were elected to the assembly in the recent election. Both were unopposed.

Although Mrs. Nhu's American tour was officially billed as a personal visit, the government hoped she might sway U.S. public opinion following the recent unfavorable publicity over the crackdown on the Buddhists.

New South Viet Nam Envoy Arrives In U.S.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—South Vietnam's new ambassador to the United States arrived unexpectedly at San Francisco late yesterday and said there are no fundamental differences between the two nations.

Do Vang Ly arrived on a Pan American flight that left Saigon Sunday with stops at Manila, Guam and Hawaii.

He planned to fly to Washington today.

The 45-year-old Ly replaces the father of Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, sister-in-law of South Nietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem. Her father, Tran Van Chuong, resigned to protest Diem's moves against Buddhists in South Nietnam, and her mother quit as the government's observer at the United Nations. Chuong also charged misuse of American funds.

At the airport, Ly said: "I have confidence, great confidence that the relations between our two countries can be better and better as days go by. Fundamentally there are no differences between our countries. We are both fighting for the same things."

He was careful to disassociate the fiery Mrs. Nhu from the government. She has drawn world-wide attention with statements defending the government's actions in cracking down on Buddhists, who claim they are discriminated against. Mrs. Nhu is due in the United States shortly.

Nixon Blames Rights Crisis 'To Some Extent' On JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon charged today that the nation's "civil rights crisis is to a great extent" President John F. Kennedy's fault.

Nixon said it is "due to the fact that having made some symbolic gestures in the campaign and some extravagant promises about what he was going to do, he did nothing but give his civil rights program lip service."

"As a result," Nixon said in an exclusive copyright interview in the current issue of U. S. News and World Report, "a tremendous emotional development occurred which resulted in the demonstrations."

Nixon's comments were in response to the question: "On civil rights, would you have used troops in Alabama and Mississippi if you had been president?"

The former vice president, Kennedy's opponent in the 1960 presidential election, added:

"I think that anybody sitting in the White House, with the lines of communication that he has, knew that this crisis was going to come up. And what could have avoided it would have been for the president of the United States, with his immense prestige, to call in the governors of the critical states, sit them down and tell them, without any equivocation, what was going to happen in the event that they did not comply with the law of the land."

He rejected once again any notion that he will seek the Republican presidential nomination in 1964.

Sale Of Wheat Wouldn't Dent Supply In U.S.

Domestic Needs Are Stored For Almost Two Years

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possible sale of around 125 million tons of wheat to the grain-short Soviet bloc would barely make a dent in the bountiful American supply.

At a time when wheat shortages are appearing in many countries, the U.S. government owns enough wheat to feed Americans more than two years.

This is in addition to this year's crop which also is sufficient to meet domestic food needs for an additional two years.

U. S. ASSUMPTION

Although this feeding capability is based on the assumption that no wheat would be exported, there is no need to restrict exports.

Present American supplies are ample to meet anticipated domestic and export demands for at least 18 months, probably 20 months. In the meantime, another crop—next year's—will be grown and harvested.

The plentiful American supply situation is in sharp contrast to that of the Soviet Union and some of its satellites. Because of poor crops and less skill in production than possessed by American farmers, the Soviets have found it necessary to turn to Canada, Australia and Western Europe—and now possibly the United States—for supplementary wheat.

HUNGARY READY

Saturday, diplomatic sources reported Hungary has told the United States it is ready to buy 800,000 tons—about 30 million bushels—of American grain.

Other informants said Cargill, Inc., of Minneapolis, one of the big American grain processors and shippers, has already requested an export license from the Commerce Department.

It was also reported that the Czech and Bulgarian embassies in Washington have expressed interest in buying about 60 million dollars with of American grain.

COLD WAR CHANGES ARE STIRRING ASIA

Chinese-Soviet Conflict Points Up Struggle Of Impatient Continent

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Asia is severely shaken today by its own conflicts and by radical changes in the cold war picture. These changes are a potent yeast in the ferment which is engulfing the whole vast, over-peopled, and impatient continent.

"This is a most critical moment for Asia," said one highly placed informant. "You might say this whole area now is up for grabs."

It seems probable that a long hard struggle is ahead to prevent the whole continent from falling one day under Communist domination.

The most significant development for Asia in the past decade has been the violent quarrel between the Communist parties of the Soviet Union and Red China.

Yet there are also clear indications that the Chinese-Soviet split is being overstressed to an extent that can lead to dangerous consequences.

To Indians, the split seems to have become a question as simple as black and white: The Chinese have become all bad—therefore those who seem to oppose the Red Chinese must be the reverse. This includes the Soviet party and its followers.

Even in Southeast Asia circles closely connected with the United States and the West one can detect a superabundance of optimism. This seems based on the motion that the Red Chinese have lost the implicit support of the Russians, should Peking think in terms of embarking on reckless adventures. But Peking always has had the long view of domination in Asia by slow stages, despite its defiance of nuclear "paper tigers."

The more cautious element in Southeast Asia makes allowance for the possibility of events — a showdown crisis in which Moscow may have to stand up and be counted, or a change of leadership either in Peking or Moscow — which could cause the Russians and Chinese to close ranks.

Although the world's attention was diverted by the Cuban missile crisis last October, Red China's attack at that time on India's frontiers was an event of enormous cold war significance.

India turned in virtual panic to the United States for military help. It got aid, under the U. S.-British Nassau agreement, but this tended to damage Nehru's standing as the Asian leader of nonalignment.

The Indians are getting arms, ammunition and technical assistance for their armed forces. They wanted a bit more. The Indians hinted broadly that they wanted Nike-Zeus ground-to-air missiles for defensive purposes around the big Indian cities.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Mormon Civil Rights Statement

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The Mormon Church issued a strong civil rights statement yesterday, calling on all men to work for the establishment of "full civil equality for all."

Hugh B. Brown, first counselor in the first presidency, issued the statement during the final sessions of the 133rd semi-annual conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

"We would like to make it known that there is in this church no doctrine, belief or practice that is intended to deny the enjoyment of full civil rights by any persons, regardless of race, color or creed," said Brown, the number two man in the church hierarchy.

Neophyte Reaches Tahiti Safely

HONOLULU (AP)—The 45-foot ketch Neophyte, believed lost at sea with its male skipper and girl crew of four, landed safely in Tahiti Friday.

The ketch, which left Rawaii Aug. 27, had not been heard from since its departure, and last week the parents of one of the girls asked the Coast Guard to make a search.

Coast Guard officials would not name the girl involved or her parents.

Hurricane Flora Ruins Cuba Crops

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Flora lashed Cuba today for the fourth day in a row, dealing a crushing blow to the already staggering economy of Fidel Castro's Communist regime.

Hundreds Of Capsules Of Narcotics Wash Up

DALY CITY (AP)—State narcotics agents are trying to figure out if the hundreds of containers of drugs that washed up on a beach yesterday came from a 1.3-million-dollar load which gun-carrying agents dumped into the ocean last week.

The accumulated evidence from narcotics cases was dropped into the water 12 miles off the Golden Gate last Wednesday.

Yesterday, hundreds of ampules of a brain stimulant called methedrine began rolling ashore in containers at Thornton Beach, just south of San Francisco. Several bottles apparently containing narcotics also were discovered by bathers and beach strollers.

Matthew O'Connor, supervising agent of the California narcotics bureau, recalled, "We've been dumping this stuff for at least six years and this has never happened before. When we left the area everything was submerged.

"We made every effort to break all the bottles, but of course I didn't break all of them myself." O'Connor and the Coast Guard agreed that currents could have swept material ashore.

Brown Declares Fire Prevention Week

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown has proclaimed this to be "Fire Prevention Week" in California and warned that the state cannot neglect measures that will save lives, property and natural resources.

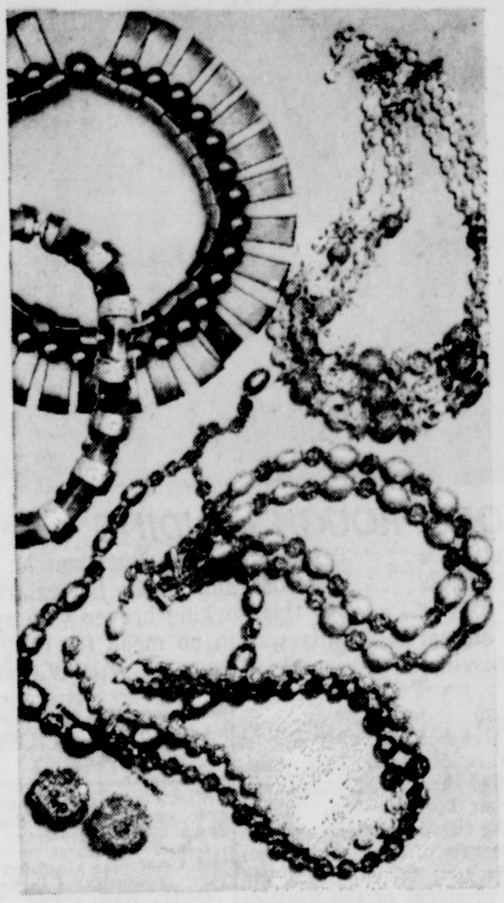

In a proclamation Saturday, Brown noted that 433 Californians were killed in connection with fires last year.

Dr. Schell Named To Hospital Committee

Dr. Robert F. Schell, 88 Deer Park Avenue, San Rafael, has been appointed to the San Francisco Bay Area Hospital Planning Committee by the State Department of Public Health.

The committee is one of three regional groups authorized by the state legislature to assist local agencies in developing plans for "comprehensive health facilities."

Bodega Quake Damage, Unlikely, Experts Say

BODEGA (AP) — Two consulting experts today said that earthquake slippage damage at the Bodega Heads site of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.'s proposed atomic power plant was extremely unlikely.

They were Dr. Don Tocher, University of California research seismologist, and Elmer C. Marliave of Sacramento, consulting geologist and former engineering geologist with the State Department of Water Resources.

Dr. Tocher said a fault fracture discovered in the site's bed rock probably occurred millions of years ago. He estimated the age of the granitic rock at 93 million years.

He said fault evidence discovered in sedimentary rock covering the bed rock could have resulted from causes other than earthquake.

He estimated the sedimentary rock age at more than 40,000 years.

Marliave said the plant site is about a quarter of a mile west of the western boundary of the San Andreas fault zone. He said the main area of slippage lies at the eastern edge of the San Andreas zone where the 1906 quake shock centered.

Marliave said the Bodega Head site base would be subject to sinking but the plant design will have a safety factor to withstand far more than the San Francisco earthquake shock.

Both men told their views to newsmen visiting the reactor pit under excavation. It is 140 feet across and now reaches 60 feet below sea level. The completed depth will be 73 feet.

UAR Plans To Lend Teachers To Africa

CAIRO (UPI) — The United Arab Republic has decided to loan 1,353 teachers to 25 African and Asian countries for the 1963-64 academic year.

This is nearly 30 per cent more than the number sent abroad last year — 1,075 teachers to 19 countries in the two continents. The 1952 figure was 450 and the recipients then were mostly Arab countries.

Despite its own shortage in teachers, the UAR government has been anxious to supply African and Asian nations with their teacher requirements. Egypt presently has about 120,000 teachers and she needs many more thousands to staff the ever-increasing number of schools built under President Gamal Abdel-Nasser's program to provide free education for all.

An Education Ministry source said the government, in line with its policy of friendship and cooperation with the Afro-Asian countries, has been doing its utmost to meet their requests for teachers. Even so, he said, the number to be sent abroad next year — 1,216 men and 137 women teachers — is 900 less than the number requested.

The government considers these teachers "unofficial ambassadors" and special care is taken in choosing them. Only those with the best records are selected. Before leaving for their posts they are given "orientation courses" including lectures on the conditions and customs of the countries where they will serve.

Despite its strained relations with the UAR, Saudi Arabia will get 292 Egyptian teachers next year, the highest number for a single country. Kuwait comes next, with 246, and Libya is third, with 236. Japan will get two teachers and Communist China one.

Other countries include Algeria, Sierra Leone, Togo, Mali, Somalia, Nigeria, Sudan, Morocco and Zanzibar in Africa, and Afghanistan, Philippines and Pakistan in Asia.

Service in foreign countries is eagerly sought by many Egyptian teachers, particularly those who are not married.

Evidence Came Loud And Clear

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Judge Robert V. Wood really listened to the evidence when George Gazaway, 30, appeared on a charge of driving a motorcycle with a noisy muffler.

The defendant contended that it was not noisy, while Patrolman William Duritsch insisted that it was. When Judge Wood learned that the motorcycle was parked just across from city hall he instructed the officer to start the vehicle so he could listen to the muffler.

A few minutes later traffic court resounded with a loud roar and Judge Wood convicted Gazaway, fining him $5 and suspending his driving rights for 30 days.

Nearly all of Italy's 51 million people are Roman Catholics. But there are also 85,000 Protestants, 50,,000 Jews and 26,000 Greek Orthodox.

Shoplifting Suspects Are Collared

The manager of Novato's Safeway Store proved a speedy broken field runner Saturday night as he collared two shoplifting suspects.

Clarice Susan Hewitt of 1313 Leafwood Drive, Novato, a checker at the store at Diablo Avenue and South Novato Boulevard, saw two men leaving with unpaid groceries. She called Lewis Onarck, the manager.

As pursuit started, both men took to their heels, flinging two bags of groceries into an empty building next door to the Safeway Store. With Onarck close behind — and gaining steadily—they dashed across a bridge over Novato Creek and fled south on South Novato Boulevard.

Onarck collared them near the Nave Shopping Center and held them for police.

The pair, Henry Obiedo Hernandez, 23, of 11 J Street, San Rafael, and Jamshid Akbari of 1104 Ruhlman Lane, Novato, were booked into Marin County Jail on shoplifting charges, with bail set at $276 each.

Onarck said the bags they tossed away contained $13.30 worth of groceries.

Auto Break-In Brings Arrest

A 24-year-old Fairfax man was jailed on a burglary charge early today after he was caught breaking into a car by a San Rafael resident.

John Alexander Taylor of 211 Canal Street, alerted by his wife who heard glass being smashed, rushed into the street and caught Gary Edward Kinyon of 155 Piper Court entering a car, according to police.

Taylor held the suspect until police arrived. Officers said a suitcase taken from the car of Russel T. Manning of La Mesa was found in Kinyon's car. It contained items valued at $200, including a camera and radio.

Church Permit Asked

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, will ask for a permit to construct a new church on Camino Alto near East Blithedale Avenue at tomorrow's meeting of the Mill Valley Planning Commission. The meeting starts at 8 p.m. in city hall.

Dishwasher Taken

Robert L. Swanson of Lafayette reported to Novato police Saturday that a dishwasher and intercom set valued at $500 were taken from a house under construction at Jackson and Truman Drives in Novato. The theft occurred since Sept. 5, Swanson said

Video Personality Reports Burglary

Daniel S. Cohelan, better known to television viewers as Don Sherwood, reported to the sheriff's office yesterday someone had broken into a house he owns and taken drapes, rugs and archery equipment worth a total of $800.

Sherwood said he is living in San Francisco, but owns the house at 5 Washington Park Avenue, near Mill Valley. A neighbor, Elinor Gregory, who lives nearby at 602 Panoramic Highway, discovered the theft in a check of the house.

The rugs were taken from the living room, dining room and one bedroom. The drapes came from the upstairs bedroom only, Sherwood said. Also gone from a closet were two spun glass bows and 30 arrows.

The burglary was one of a rash, most of them near Mill Valley, reported during the weekend.

Clarence J. Virgilio, 755 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, reported a coin collection, including silver dollars minted every year from 1878 to 1935, and a sack of coins worth $70, was taken from a cabinet in his den. A back door had been forced to gain entry.

Charles J. Bold, 192 Stadium Avenue, Homestead Valley, said $40 in currency was removed from a bedroom dresser drawer in his home. The thief apparently climbed through an unlocked kitchen window.

David E. Bacigalupi, 56 Alder Avenue, San Anselmo, said parts were taken from a 1929 Model A Ford he was storing at 31 Laurel Avenue, Kentfield.

Bacigalupi said the dashboard, windshield, radiator cap, tail light and two headlamp lenses were stolen.

More Money For Parks In California

WASHINGTON (AP)—Expenditure of an additional $278,000 in five Northern California counties was announced today by Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall.

Some $188,000, allocated for the campground improvement and forest preservation in Yosemite National Park in Mariposa and Tuolumne counties.

The National Park Service will spend $50,000 — 54 man-months of work — improving the Whiskeytown National Recreation Area in Shasta County; an additional $15,000 for the Bureau of Land Management forest control program — 15 man-months — in Humboldt County, and another $25,000 for reforestation of 545 acres — 24 man-months of work — in Lassen County.

The additions raise to $345,000 the amount of forest money being spent by the bureau in Humboldt County and to $75,000 in Lassen County.

this morning also discussed the proposed trailer court ordinance and decided to discuss it further at the Oct. 21 meeting.

The trailer park ordinance, outlined by Planning Director B. D. Dobbs, would require trailer parks to be at least five acres in size with a maximum of 10 trailers per acre.

Youth, 16, Reported Taking Can Opener

A 16-year-old Mill Valley youth was cited to juvenile hall Saturday on petty theft charges after he allegedly took a 69-cent can opener from a display rack at the Top Hat Market, 418 Miller Avenue.

Olen Bartlet, store employee, told police that at 5:32 p.m. he saw the boy take the opener from the rack, conceal it in his trousers pocket and attempt to leave the market by the north exit of the pharmacy, next to the market.

Police Say Woman Took Pill Overdose

Mrs. Dunand Marble White, 29, of 1851 Center Road, Novato, was recovering in Novato Hospital today from what police described as an overdose of sleeping pills.

Her husband, Lanar White, called police shortly after 7 p.m. yesterday. United Ambulance took Mrs. White to the hospital, where she was reported in good condition today.

The first macadam highway in the United States was built between 1791 and 1797. It ran from Philadelphia to Lancaster, Pa.

READY FOR A ROUGH LANDING

There are many ways to get off a horse. Not exactly recommended is this procedure used by this convict in the opening of the 32nd annual Texas Prison Rodeo at Huntsville, Tex., yesterday. But then he road bareback, and all the horses are not like this bucking bronco who apparently was in no mood for company. (AP Wirephoto)

OBITUARIES

J. A. Kinney Services Tomorrow

Funeral for James A. Kinney, 78, of Tamal Road, Forest Knolls, will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Martin and Brown Funeral Home, San Francisco.

Kinney, a retired contractor, died of a heart attack Friday while walking up the hill to his home.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Birdie Unger and Alice Theilmeyer of San Francisco.

Services will be under auspices of Mount Davidson Lodge 481, Free and Accepted Masons. Cremation will be at Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

R. L. EBERHARDT

STOCKTON (AP) — Banker and civic leader R. L. Eberhardt died of a heart attack in a hospital here last night. He was 70.

Eberhardt, director of the Port of Stockton, past president of the San Joaquin County Fair board and a member of the board of regents of the University of Pacific, had been in banking for 48 years. He was president of the Bank of Stockton.

His widow and two daughters survive.

GALLAGHER

Funeral services will be held in San Francisco Wednesday for Clarence Gallagher, 70, of 73 Locust Avenue, Mill Valley, who died at a local hospital Saturday after suffering a stroke at his home Friday.

Gallagher, retired director of vocational education in the Vallejo School District, had lived in Mill Valley for three years.

Surviving are a sister, Mabel Gallagher of Mill Valley, and a brother, Harold, of San Francisco.

Funeral will be held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Gantner-Felder-Kenny Chapel, San Francisco. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Speakers Hour Planned Again

The College of Marin "Hyde Park" speakers hour will be re-instituted Wednesday noon at the tree stump in front of the library, Robert Scoville, president of the Mariner Discussion Committee, announced today.

He said the first speakers' hour will be a discussion of the pros and cons of having a communist speak on the campus. The Mariner Discussion Committee invited Albert J. Lima, chairman of the Northern California District of the Communist party, to speak in Olney Hall tomorrow noon.

The speakers' hour will be held once a month, said Scoville.

Overdose Of Pills Reported By Police

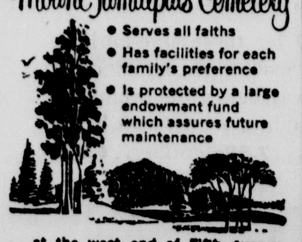

Margaret Atkins, 366 Hickory Lane, Terra Linda, was reported in fair condition, but beginning to respond, at Marin General Hospital today after being admitted yesterday when found unconscious in her home.

Mrs. Atkins apparently took an overdose of drugs, the sheriff's office was told by her husband, Harold F. Atkins.

Captain Arrives

Capt. Stephen F. Kent, whose wife, Marcia, lives at 260 Margarita Drive, San Rafael, arrived on Okinawa Sept. 22, where he is serving as a pediatrician at Fort Buckner.

COLLEGE'S STUDENT CENTER PLAN

College of Marin's planned student center, as designed by the San Francisco architectural firm of Faulk and Booth, has been located so as not to block the view of Mount Tamalpais from the center of the campups. The outside view of the center (left), shows an outdoor dining area and the reinforced concrete columns, topped with precast capitals which surround the building. Inside (right), is the dining room for students. A faculty dining room leads off from this room. Exterior walls of the building are glass and grouted brick. Cost of the building , including site improvements, is estimated at $757,400.

POSTMASTER'S EXPLOSIVE LITTLE STORY

HONOLULU (AP)—Postmaster General John A. Gronouski, speaking to the National Assn. of Postmasters in Honolulu, told them about the Hawaii Legend of the Goddess of Fire.

The goddess appeared as either a beautiful woman or an old harridan who flirts with only handsome young men. If rejected, she caused volcanoes to erupt.

"I am greatly relieved," said Gronouski, "that I have not seen one unattractive woman here today. I think we are safe from volcanic eruptions."

As he spoke, a crater on Kilauea volcano on the island of Hawaii erupted.

Innocent Plea In Bookmake Case

William P. Mountanos, 51, pleaded innocent today to four counts of bookmaking after Judge N. Charles Brusatori denied a motion by Mountanos' attorney, Nathan Cohn, to dismiss the charges for insufficient evidence.

The case was continued for a week in Marin County Superior Court for setting the trial date.

Mountanos, brother of the Marin County sheriff, was arrested Aug. 21 by San Rafael police in a San Rafael bar, and was later indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury.

This Car Doesn't Go On Water

There is a car that travels on both land and water but Miss Darby Stevens of 66 Seaway Avenue, San Rafael, wasn't driving one Saturday.

Miss Stevens was driving a sports car along the service road at the rear of the Montecito Shopping Center when it plunged into the San Rafael Canal.

Her un-seaworthy car left her stranded, and San Rafael firemen were called at 12:35 p.m. They rescued Miss Darby, who was sitting in the car, uninjured.

Hunt Starts For American Adventurers In Mexico

CHIHAUHAU, Mexico (AP) — The United States government moved in helicopters and a para-rescue team today in the mounting search for a group of daring American adventurers in desolate northwest Mexico.

After a small airplane flew through the needle thin gorge, its craggy walls blotched with shadows, help was called for from the U.S. Air Force and Army.

The river expedition of 12 men and two women hasn't been heard from or seen in more than a week during their quest to conquer the uncharted Rio Ureque. The 15th member was hospitalized after he had been sent for additional supplies.

The exploration - adventure group set out 13 days ago in four 15-foot rubber boats to travel the thin canyon which stretches along the winding, twisting Barranca Cobre (Copper Gulch). They had with them only enough food for a few days. The explorers planned to pick up provisions from mining camps at intervals along the river.

The explorers include veteran river runners, two California business executives on a "vacationing camping trip" and a zoology professor.

The search area is about 300 air miles from this Mexican state capital.

One of the adventurers, James D. Dean, 31, of Salt Lake City, Utah, reached here Friday after an exhausting 15-mile hike across rough terrain. He had to swim another seven miles.

Dean and Larry Davis of Price, Utah, were sent by the expedition for more food.

The explorers found the river's water level so low that their supplies began to dwindle. It was taking them several days longer to float down the river than anticipated because of its low level.

They felt Dean and Davis would be able to travel faster by finding easier terrain away from the treacherous river. The two sought a mining camp where a food pickup had been scheduled.

From his hospital bed, Dean yesterday expressed confidence that his mates are safe.

He said when he and Davis left the group Sept. 29, "everything was fine. There were no injuries. Their spirits were high and morale wonderful."

Vice Consul Bob Homme said he was "not in a position to be an alarmist or overly optimistic" about the explorers. Davis left with a Mexican guide and two Indians to make his way back to the main body. It was not known today if he had successfully contacted the main party.

"We all think they are alive," said Homme early today. "It's just a matter of pinning down their location. I believe they are on their way out."

He estimated it might take the group a week or more to cover the distance because of the rough going.

Homme, who flew in one of two private search planes yesterday, said the water in the river had been reduced to puddles. He said the two pilots confirmed they saw what they thought were three beached boats, similar to those in use by the explorers.

Plan For Apartments On Hill Is Due Debate

Second public hearing on a plan to build 400 apartment units in Terra Linda, vigorously protested at the first hearing by residents of the area, will be held by the San Rafael Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the city hall.

The request for rezoning from unclassified to multiple family is being made by George Kerrigan, who wishes to develop the property between Nova Albion Way, Los Ranchitos Road and Golden Hinde Boulevard.

At the first public hearing, Sept. 24, 647 signatures were received in petitions which opposed the hillside project.

William Goodwin Co. is asking architectural approval for a 28-unit apartment building at 216 Marin Street and Kaehler-Farrar Development Co. requests permission to construct 72 units at Canal, Novato and Larkspur streets.

The second hearing on the rezoning of Terra Linda Unit 20, from unclassified to single-family residential use, will be held. The development provides for 70 lots.

The final subdivision map of Dominican Heights Unit Three north of Glen Park Avenue, consisting of 30 lots, will be up for consideration.

Larkspur Open House

The Larkspur fire department will hold open house at its main station next door to city hall on Magnolia Avenue from 7 to 9 p.m. today through Friday to observe fire prevention week, Chief George Bartram announced.

Flu Shots At College

Influenza immunization shots will be given to College of Marin students from noon to 2 p.m. tomorrow in Room 15, Harlan Hall. A fee of $1 will be charged to cover the cost of medication and syringes.

Deaths Blamed On Canned Fish

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Two persons have died after eating contaminated smoked fish purchased at a supermarket, it was disclosed today. Five other persons were hospitalized.

The Knox County Health Department traced the fish to Kroger's Supermarkets here which removed several brands of packaged and canned white fish and smoked fish from its shelves.

Dr. Harold Kelso, head of the county heath department, said, "There may be more cases of botulism in the city."

On Landing Ship

Navy Fireman Charles E. Edmonds, son of Mrs. Elma Vincent of 50 Bayview Terrace, Mill Valley, serving aboard the dock landing ship Catamount, was in extensive amphibious maneuvers conducted Sept. 16 through 27 off the coast of Southern California.

The term "equinox" comes from the Latin words for "equal night."

Anti-Red Formula Is Given To Group

A limited federal government is one of our best weapons in the "war against communism," a former state commander of the American Legion told a joint conference of teachers and Legion members Saturday in Novato.

Malcolm M. Champlin, Oakland lawyer and former Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, spoke to about 50 persons at a conference of the California Teachers' Assn.-American Legion Joint Committee.

"Do not ask Washington, D.C., to repair the sewer in front of your house," Champlin said. "We wrap ourselves in the chains of slavery when we look to Washington for help."

Quoting J. Edgar Hoover, Champlin said we are "at war with the communists" and "we need to know how best to attack." Preservation of local government and "local solutions to local problems" are "valuable ammunition," he said.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) also spoke at the luncheon in Tomahawk Lodge which concluded the conference. He said an adequate bill for state aid to education was the "victim" of last-moment partisan politics at this year's legislature. Funds for education should be the legislature's first consideration in fiscal matters, he said.

The conference, which opened Friday evening, was called to discuss teaching about communism in schools, the problem of school dropouts, and plans for the California Youth Conservation program.

State Forester F. H. Raymond told committee members at a Saturday morning session that the conservation program would aid students who quit school by giving them two hours of classes a day as well as vocational training.

The pamphlet, "Guidelines for Teaching About Communism for Junior and Senior High School Teachers," prepared by the Legion and the National Education Assn., was discussed by Dr. J. W. Mears, president of Cerritos College in Los Angeles.

Several other speakers, including Thomas W. Braden, president of the state board of education, were scheduled for the conference but were unable to attend because of other commitments, said County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis, who arranged the meeting.

Jury Probe Asked In Complaint

A Sausailto man has asked for a grand jury investigation of the Marin County district attorney's office because a deputy refused to let one man sign a formal battery complaint against another.

The case arose from a fight Sept. 28 in front of the Kettle Restaurant in Sausalito between Patrick Petteruti and Dr. James L. Fields of San Francisco. Petteruti was pushed through a large window of the restaurant then each of the fighters signed a citizens' arrest against the other Both were booked.

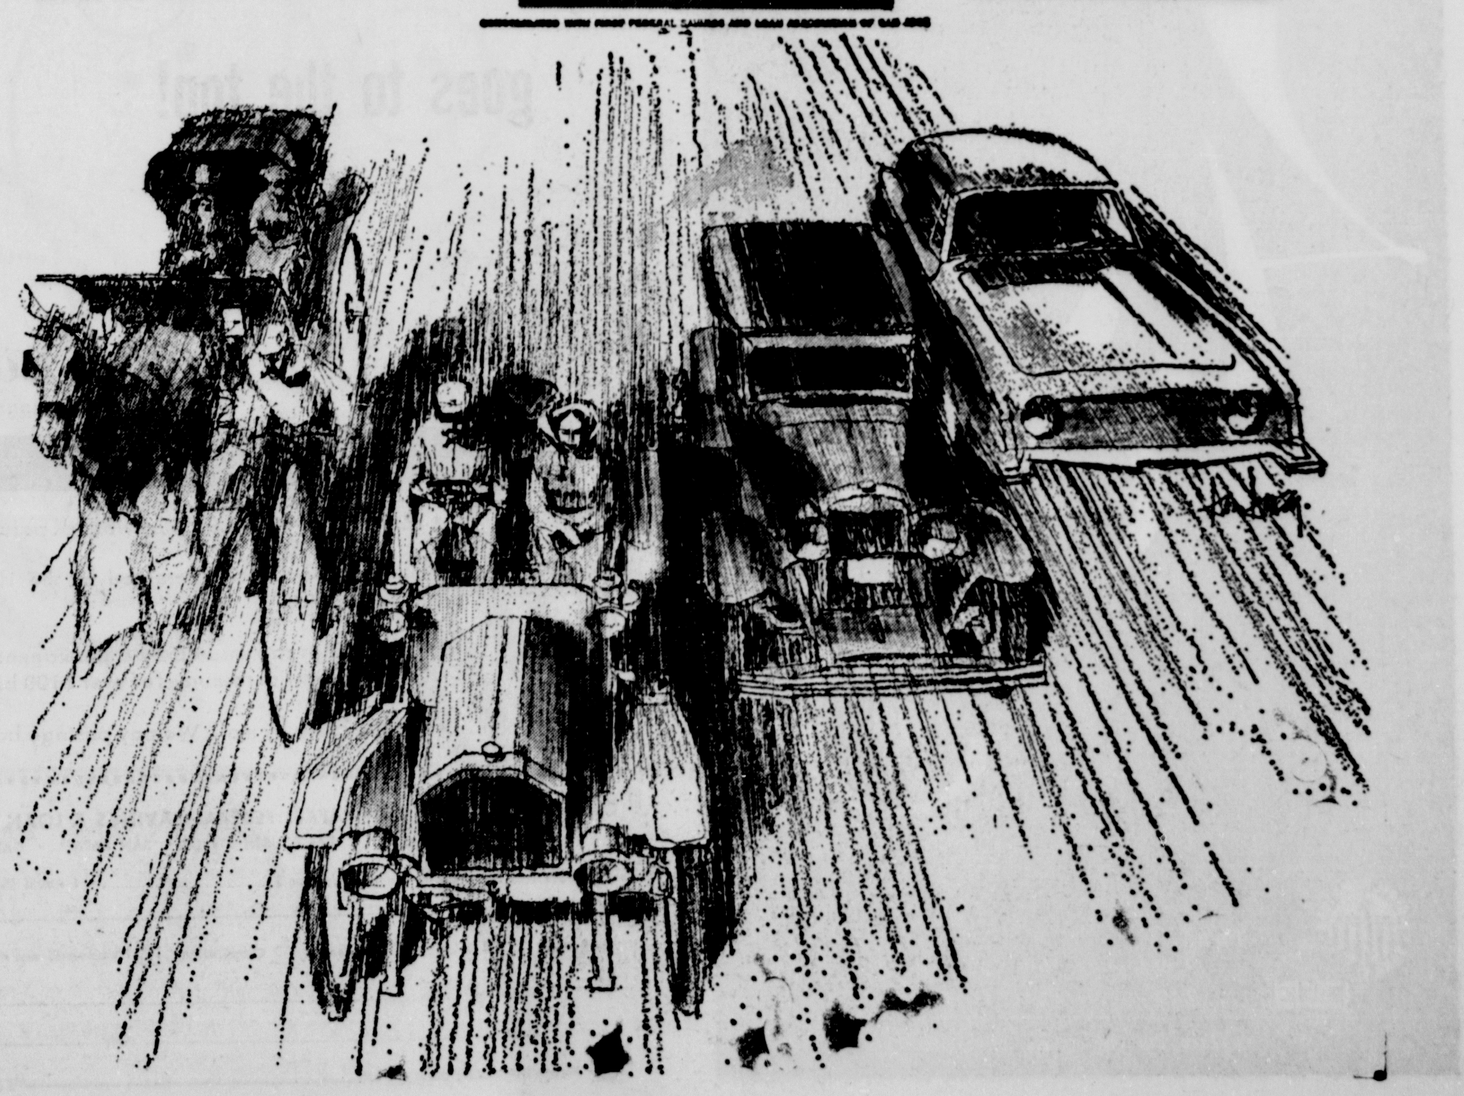

Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas said today he refused to let Petteruti sign a complaint, saying he had signed conflicting statements on what happened, and didn't think he could possibly get a conviction.

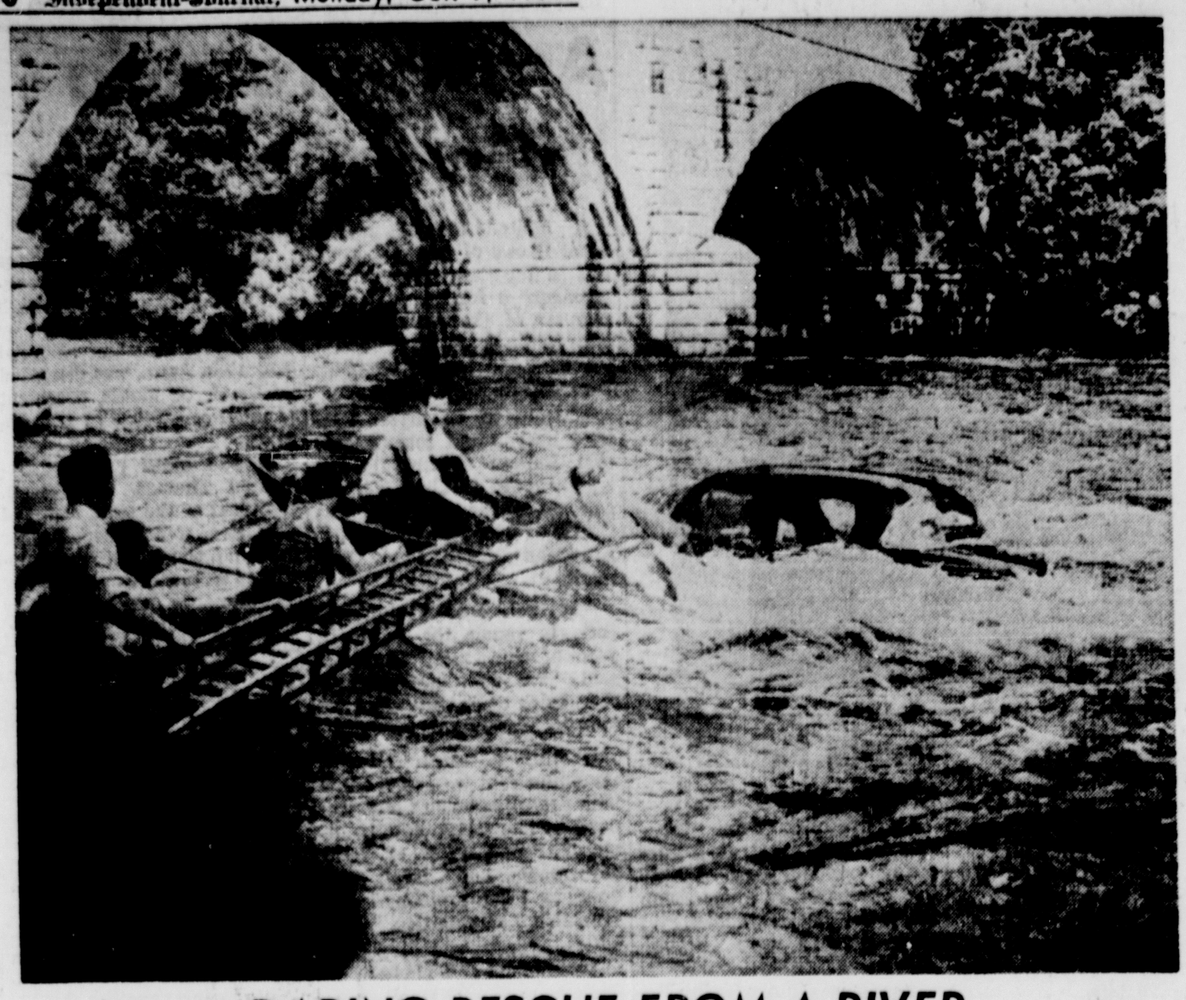

The letter to the grand jury was written by Greg Landers, 71 Central Avenue, Sausalito, a witness to the scuffle, who went with Petteruti on Sept. 30 to sign the complaint.

DARING RESCUE FROM A RIVER

Rescuers use a small boat, ropes and fire ladder in an attempt to rescue the occupants of an auto from the River Dee at Kirkcudbright, Scotland, last Thursday. The occupants, Norman Vaulhard, 65, and his wife, Camilla, 64, were rescued but Mrs. Vaulkhard died the next day from injuries. The auto plunged 60 feet from a bridge into the river. (AP Wirephoto)

'Moonlighting' Check Reveals Two Violations

A check-up on "moonlighting" in construction jobs around Marin revealed only two violations during the weekend, according to George R. Scott, president of the Marin County Building and Construction Trades Council.

The council and the Marin Builders Exchange, representing contractors, joined in the moonlighting prevention project, which is to be continued on weekends throughout the winter.

Two small construction jobs in the San Rafael area, involving painters, carpenters and a laborer, were reported by a union patrol to Scott on Saturday. He said the jobs were stopped when it was discovered workers were union men receiving unreported pay for the jobs.

In many such jobs, Scott said, work is allegedly donated but actually cash paid for the labor, subjecting employees and employer to possible social security and tax law violations.

"Maybe our announcement of a crack-down has already scared some people," Scott said, "but we're going to keep checking."

GRANDMOTHER GOES BACK TO HIGH SCHOOL

STANLEY, Wis. (UPI) — Mrs. Ethel Stangret, 42, a grandmother, and her youngest daughter, Dorothy- both are full-time students at Stanley High School.

After her husband, Joseph, died last summer, Mrs. Stangret decided to return to high school and get her diploma. She had dropped out of high school after two years.

Dorothy and her mother have no classes together.

"At night she studies in her bedroom and I in the kitchen," Mrs. Stangret said.

Use Permit Law On Sausalito Agenda Oct. 16

Sausalito city councilmen will hold a special meeting at 7:45 p.m. Oct. 16 to consider extension of the interim use permit ordinance to Jan. 20, 1964.

"The reason," Mayor Paul Micou said today, "is to give us time to have hearings on the proposed new zoning ordinance." The planning commission had its first public hearing on the new ordinance last week and will continue it Wednesday. The interim ordinance was adopted in May, 1957.

No other business is to be conducted at the special council meeting.

Two Take Part In Humane Society Panel

Mel L. Morse, executive director of the Marin County Humane Society, and Frederic D. Kerr, society president, took part in a panel discussion on humane society education programs last week at the National Humane Society conference in Pennsylvania.

Morse was appointed as consultant for a proposed National Humane Education Center in Virginia, to be patterned after Marin's planned education and animal protection center at Ignacio.

Father, Firemen Revive Baby Boy

Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation by his father and resuscitator work by Fairfax firemen last night saved 9-month-old Leo J. Edson of 26 Arcangel Court, Fairfax, who was having difficulty breathing last night.

Leo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo B. Edson, was taken to Marin General Hospital, and sent home after treatment.

San Rafael Councilmen To See City Hall Plans

San Rafael City Councilmen are scheduled tonight to get their first look at plans for a new city hall and discuss again the sale of the present one.

Schematc plans for the new citiy hall are to be presented by Carl F. Gromme, spokesman for a committee or architects engaged to design the structure. The council will discuss proposals for sale of the present city hall site, either outright for occupancy of the property as soon as city offices are moved to the new hall or with a reservation for a major part of the property for use for 10 years as a municipal parking lot.

Edward Wachsman, county planning commissioiner who was stopped by the city building inspector from completing a shed too close to side and rear property lines at 5 Locksley Lane, has appealed city planning commission refusal of a variance. The council will set a date for hearing the appeal.

Public hearing is scheduled on John Mountz's appeal from planning commission restrictions placed on a subdivision on Ridgewood Drive. The commissioin ruled a street must be installed to connect the subdivision to Oakwood Drive, and that steps be taken to prevent erosion.

Two ordinances are to be presented: The proposed uniform animal control ordinance, which differs but slightly from that already on the books in San Rafael, and an amendment to the ordinance for underground installation of power and telephone lines.

Bids will be opened on correction of slide on upper Fremont Drive.

In all, there are 27 items on the agenda for the meeting opening at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

Soldier Assigned

Pvt. Paul S. Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Mason of 300 Storer Drive, Mill Valley, has been assigned to the Seventh Division in Korea. Mason, a chaplain's assistant, re-enlisted in the Army in June after serving four years.

Wallet Missing From Purse

A wallet was taken from the purse of a San Rafael woman expecting a baby within days, when she suffered a seizure in a San Rafael bar early yesterday.

Mrs. Susan Leah Care told San Rafael Police Officer Arthur Myers that the wallet, containing a $50 check and $8 in cash, was taken from her purse when she had the seizure at about 2 a.m. at the Scottish Club, 804 Fourth Street.

Myers took Mrs. Care to her residence at 1110 Tamalpais Avenue where he forced the door open for her. The keys to her home were also taken from the wallet.

Another Orr Quits Hub Police

The San Anselmo Police Department which once had three Orr brothers now has one.

Sgt. John Orr resigned Friday, leaving only Juvenile Officer Chester Orr to carry the family banner at the department.

At one time, John, Chester and James Orr, now police chief of Fairfax, served together.

Sergeant Orr gave no reason for his resignation in a letter which will be received by the city council tomorrow night. He joined the department in 1957 and became a sergeant in 1960.

The council will also consider a request from attorney David Costamagna for a permit for a card room at the Ranch House Restaurant, 726 San Anselmo Avenue.

On Active Duty

Army Reserve Lt. Col. Edward L. Jones of 95 Laurel Avenue, Larkspur, is serving two weeks of active duty with the San Francisco Procurement District.

Delegate From Peking Granted Russ Aslylum

TOKYO (UPI)—A member of a Chinese communist trade delegation stole out of his Tokyo hotel room before dawn today, drove to the Soviet embassy, scaled the embassy wall and asked for political asylum.

The Russians promptly granted asylum to Peking interpreter Chou Hong-ching, 44, and refused to turn him over to Japanese immigration authorities, threatening to touch off a major diplomatic incident between Japan and Russia.

At the same time, the chief of the Red Chinese delegation, Tao Heng-hsien, informed the Japanese government he would not leave this country until the defector was returned to Red Chinese custody. Tao is chief secretary of Communist China's elite engineering academy.

The Japanese immigration authorities asked the Russians to turn the defector over to them because Chou's visa expired yesterday.

But the Soviet Embassy refused. Japanese authorities said the embassy had already guaranteed Chou's passage to Russia and he was planning to leave for Moscow within the next few days.

Chou was interpreter for the eight-man trade delegation that arrived in Tokyo Sept. 6 to visit an international oil fair and hold trade talks with Japanese firms.

Beer, Boys In Car, Man, 21, Arrested

A San Rafael 21-year-old was jailed on suspicion of contributing to the delinquency of minors after his car was stopped by a Novato policeman early yesterday.

Patrolman Otto Haiungs said Dennis Dean Aman, 21, of 282 Union Street, San Rafael, was with four teen-age boys in the car as it pulled away from a service station at Rowland and South Novato boulevards at 2 a.m. There was beer in the car, the officer said. Aman was also charged with being drunk in public and supplying intoxicants to minors. Bail was set at $855.

Boys Stopped From Shooting

Three boys, aged 12 and 13, were stopped yesterday while shooting at a pelican near the Audubon Canyon Ranch near Bolinas. Deputy Sheriff John Goff said they were using a shotgun, pistol and rifle.

Goff said he did not cite the boys because they said the bird had been sick and on the ground when they found it.

Several persons in Bolinas heard the shots and reported to the sheriff's office.

The boys had a .22 caliber rifle, a nine millimeter Luger and a shotgun, Goff said.

San Jose Session

San Jose School District trustees, continuing a plan of meeting on various schools to give parents better opportunity to attend, will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the Lynwood School. Routine items are on the agenda.

WELLS FARGO BANK SEALS IN FIRST FLOOR

Approximately 625 tons of concrete were poured at the top of the first floor level of Wells Fargo Bank's new building at Third and A streets Friday. Two huge cranes were used to lift it from the street. By using hollow cardboard tubes under the reinforcing rods, weight of the concrete was reduced by more than one half. A steel-framed mezzanine section will next be erected on the building which is expected to be completed early in December. Spiliotis and Co. is the general contractor.

SCIENCE PROGRAMS SLASHED IN HOUSE

Civil Defense, Space Planning Also In For Cuts From Appropriations Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today voted deep slashes in the nation's civil defense, space and science programs.

Among other things, it turned down the entire 195 million dollars asked for a nationwide fallout shelter program.

In a bill financing 25 executive agencies and offices, the committee approved only $13,102,818,700 of the $14,658,588,000 requested by President John F. Kennedy for the present fiscal year.

But even with the $1,555,769,300 cut, the bill's total as it went to the House floor for consideration later this week was $1,233,067,400 higher than the same agencies received last year.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration was alloted 5.1 billion dollars of the $5,712,000,000 the President had originally requested. Congress itself, in a separate authorization act, previously had cut the program more than 400 million dollars. The committee was held to the authorization ceiling.

The amount recommended for the space program was $1,425,885,000 more than Congress provided last year. Most of the money approved was earmarked for research and development.

An effort to cut the space agency funds further will be made on the house floor. Rep. Louis C. Wyman (R-N.H.) called for additional reductions of 700 million dollars, mainly in the program to send a manned space vehicle to the moon.

The Veterans Administration's share of the funds was $5,372,430,000, almost the entire amount requested and a slight increase over last year. It included $1,075,186,000 to operate 121,486 hospital bads, and $3,921,000,000 for compensation and pension payments.

The committee rejected the entire 195 million dollars requested to finance a nationwide fallout shelter program which the House overwhelmingly authorized—but did not finance—last month.The Senate has not acted on the authorization bill.

For all civil defense programs, including those now in operation, the President requested 346.9 million dollars. The committee slashed this to 87.8 million dollars.

Edward Murrow Has Lung Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward R. Murrow, 55, director of the U S.. Information Agency and former nationally known news commentator, was reported in very satisfactory condition after an operation to remove his left lung.

Murrow is recuperating in the Washington Hospital Center after the three-hour operation Saturday.

Tests have been ordered to see whether a tumor on the lung was malignant.

Ground To Be Broken For New Tahoe Hotel

STATELINE, Nev. (AP) — Ground will be broken within six months for a new hotel and gambling casino on the south shore of Lake Tahoe, Oliver Kahle, president of Tahoe Village Inc., said today.

The eight-story, 500-room hotel is scheduled to be completed by the spring of 1965, Kahle said.

Memorial Playground Is Dedicated

About 150 persons yesterday watched dedication ceremonies of the Andy Peri Memorial Playground in Fairfax.

Paying tribute to Peri, who was police chief in Fairfax for 34 years, was San Rafael attorney Raymond H. Shone, who was city judge in Fairfax from 1948 until 1953.

Shone recalled Peri's "unquestioined integrity and courage."

He told the story of how Peri kept jars in his office where erring juveniles would come each week to deposit money until the property they had damaged was paid for.

Also ospeaking at the ceremonies which took about 45 minutes was Peri's wife, Mrs. Francis De Silva, Mayor W. E. Radtke spoke a few words and Homer Sisk, Fairfax school district superintendent, acted as master of ceremonies.

10-Year Pin Due Dan Anderson

Dan E. Andersen, San Rafael city manager, will be presented a 10-year pin at the International City Managers Assn.'s 49th annual conference in Denver on Oct. 16.

The association will honor three city managers with 25 years of service, 20 with 20 years, and 120 with 15 or 10 years. Approximately one-third of all city managers have held such positions for 10 years or more, according to an association announcement. Andersen's 10 years have been accrued in San Rafael and Daly City.

The convention will open Sunday and conclude Oct. 16.

Rotary Club Hears Discussion Of College

Three College of Marin students discussed the college master plan, curriculum and student activities at a meeting of the San Rafael Rotary Club today at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael.

The students are Richard Coburn of Fairfax, head of the student public relations committee; David Lehman of Corte Madera, vice president of Associated Students, and Davis Campbell of Inverness, president of Associated Students.

DESPITE CLOUDS

Grape Festival Was 'Big As Ever'

Cloudy skies over the Sunny Hills Grape Festival in San Anselmo failed to keep crowds "as big as ever" from attending the 64th annual charity event Saturday.

"We did just as well as if the sun were shining," said festival chairman Mrs. Walter Zweig. "We were really mobbed, and everything was sold out."

The 70 booths at the festival collected $31,682, according to reports so far, Mrs. Zweig said. She expected the total to be nearly $40,000 by the time all organizations turn in complete records. The money is used to benefit the Sunny Hills Home for emotionally disturbed children.

It was raining when the festival opened at 10 a.m., but showers ceased by noon and the cool weather was a boon to the sale of hot foods. "We sold more than 5,000 cups of coffee," Mrs. Zweig said, "and tamale pies went faster than ever. Of course soft drinks didn't go so well, but the 'snow cones' were as popular as ever with children."

Food books, art work and clothing were all sold out by 5:30 p.m., Mrs. Zweig said, and the festival was closed a half hour early.

Retired Business Execs To Hear Hospital Talk

Ex-Rep. Boykin Fined $40,000

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — Former Maryland Rep. Thomas F. Johnson was given a six-month prison term and former Alabama Rep. Frank Boykin was fined $40,000 today on charges of conflict of interest and conspiracy.

Boykin, who campaigned on the slogan, "Everything is made for love," was placed on six months probation.

Boykin, 78, is hospitalized in Washington, recovering from a heart attack.

Federal District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen handed down the sentences and fines for Boykin, Johnson and two other men, J. Kenneth Edlin and Miami attorney William Robinson.

All four were convicted earlier this year on charges growing out of a savings and loan association scandal.

Johnson was fined $5,000 in addition to the prison sentence. Edlin, a former Maryland savings and loan operator, received a one-year prison term and a fine of $16,000. Robinson received a prison term of six months.

Palm Springs Tramway Breaks, Strands 200

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — The Palm Springs tramway which operates up and down San Jacinto Mountain broke down yesterday and stranded about 200 persons for four hours, police said.

Those stranded were at the end of the run and no passengers were caught in moving tramways.

'Marin Bay' Dropped For Name 'Peacock Gap'

The name "Marin Bay" will be dropped from the 1,000-acre residential development off Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael, which was purchased by the Draper Companies in August.

Instead, the entire area will be known as "Peacock Gap," already used to designate the country club and 18-hole golf course on the property.

In making the announcement, A. G. Michaud, persident of the Draper Companies, said it seemed more suitable to retain the name Peacock Gap after the Peacock family, early residents and owners of a farm which is part of the property.

A gap cut through one of the hills on the Peacock farm in the late 1880s as an initial step in laying a railroad line. The 1906 earthquake caused the project to be abandoned, but the name continued through the years to designate the area even after the McNear family purchased it and the surrounding acreage.

Michaud said acceleration of the development is already underway with appointment of Lawrence Halprin to handle all phases of land planning, landscape and architecture. Improvements also include tennis courts and swimming pools at the country club.

Land sales will continue to be handled by the real estate firm of Fox and Carskadon, Inc., recently incorporated to cover its Marin County operation.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch — Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so — even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles — Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

Waltz through washday with a dryer!

142-DGE-1063

The tempo of washday is relaxed when you have an automatic dryer. You don't have to lift and lug those back-breaking baskets of wet wash any more. (The average homemaker handles about two tons of wet wash a year.)

Ironing is easier, too. New damp-dry settings make clothes come out just right for ironing; some come out so wrinkle-free, they need no ironing at all.

You'll be able to dry your wash any hour of the day or night, in any weather. Laundry comes out soft, fluffy...looks and feels good. And a dryer's ultra-violet light gives your clothes the sweet scent of summer sunshine.

You'll save money on clothing—especially for "small fry." Clothing lasts longer, and fewer clothes and linens are needed when you can wash and dry any time. Why not waltz down to your Reddy Recommended Dealer's today?

San Rafael School Needs Must Be Met, Paid For

Tomorrow is election day within the San Rafael Elementary and High School Districts.

Voters will decide three finance measures: two bond issues for elementary schools and a tax rate increase for the high school district.

Proposition No. 1 would authorize issuance of $3,300,000 worth of bonds for expansion and improvement, including two totally new schools at sites yet to be selected.

It has been estimated that the San Rafael District will need 11 new schools, (doubling the present number) within the next 20 years.

While some may disagree on details, the great need nevertheless faces us. We must vote the money to meet the need.

We strongly recommend a YES vote on Proposition No. 1.

The second proposition would authorize issuance of $670,000 worth of bonds to add multi-purpose rooms at nine schools.

There is no doubt that these multi-purpose rooms would be desirable and beneficial. They were unanimously recommended by the citizen committee after some months of study.

We recommend YES on Proposition No. 2, albeit not very strongly.

The third measure would raise the allowance maximum high school operating tax from the present $1.25 to $1.75 per $100 of assessed valuation.

In our opinion, this is the soundest measure of the three.

San Rafael High School District has had the present $1.25 limit for 16 years, in many of those years not requiring the maximum and not extracting it from taxpayers.

The board of education hopes to get by with considerably less than the $1.75 maximum in the immediate future, using the initial increase to finance high school expansion on a pay-as-you-go basis.

We are going to need the expansion; there isn't a cheaper way to finance it than by a direct tax. The San Rafael High School District tax rate at $1.75 would not be out of line with other districts, notably Tamalpais.

We make our strongest recommendation for a YES vote on the tax rate increase measure.

Football Fever In Marin

With interest in baseball vanished in Marin due to the demise of the Giants' hopes for this year, a slow, subtle build-up of football fever is gripping the constitutions of the sports-minded.

How will the 49ers make out this year? Will it be Stanford or California? What about College of Marin and the local high schools? These are the burning thoughts that help induce the fever.

In the excitement of a close game the true football fan becomes something of a maniac and is likely to shout advice to the suffering quarterback—even when watching a game thousands of miles away. And he suffers a moment of acute depression when his favorite team loses.

But it is all in fun and seldom fatal. We have a touch of football fever ourselves.

Wine Month

In Europe, as in California, October is the month when the rich, ripe grapes are crushed and fermented to make table wine. Hence, both the Old Dutch and the Anglo-Saxons called it Wine Month.

In ancient Europe the production of new wine was a signal for a grand orgy of drinking, because wine produced under primitive conditions soon turned to vinegar and had to be drunk quickly.

October was also called Winter Full Moon by the Anglo-Saxons. Have you noticed that the October full moon always seems larger than in other months, perhaps because of the crisp, clear air?

We welcome mellow October to Marin. Some folks think it is our finest month.

COSA NOSTRA SPECTACULAR

Congress Produced Big Show But What Was The Use?

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Now that the Senate spectacular starring Joseph Valachi is at intermission, it might be a good time to consider whether it's worth all the hullabaloo.

The only legitimate purpose of a congressional investigation is to help establish whether Congress ought to pass new laws.

Congress' real job, of course, is passing laws.

On the surface, it would appear extremely doubtful that a gangster, dope peddler and convicted murderer could be of much help to Congress in the performance of its duty.

WHO COULD BELIEVE such a character in the first place?

And, Washington being a suspicious town, these other questions arise:

How is it that the Senate cannot get around to voting on tax cuts, civil rights legislation and appropriations, yet has time for this show?

Could it be that the senatorial investigators are primarily interested in a golden opportunity to parade in print and on television?

THERE IS no question about the show being a hit. It's a smasheroo on television.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), of the Senate Investigating subcommittee, announced at the outset that the real purpose was to see whether present laws are adequate to deal with crime syndicates.

He now reports the possibility of positive good coming out of the hearings.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy thinks them worthwhile too.

It may be recalled, incidentally, that both Kennedy and his brother, then senator now President, were rackets probers along with McClellan in their climbs to fame.

The chairman says he thinks Valachi's story is important, even if "not especially new."

"IT GIVES great credence," McClellan said, "to the proposition that such an organization as La Cosa Nostra exists, and that it constitutes a menace as a 'government' which regards itself as beyond the law."

In New York City, the supposed base of the syndicate, police say that in the past year they already have gone over everything Valachi has said, and that the murderers he names are dead, or if they are alive, there is no corroboration of the testimony.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

A Catholic View On The Schools

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As a taxpayer in our community I am asked to vote for a higher school tax.

Catholic children attending Catholic schools are not allowed to ride the school buses nor are our schools given benefits out of our school tax dollars.

Why discriminate against schools that take a tremendous load from the public school system?

I will vote NO on October 8th.

Cutting Through The Irony

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have just read Paul R. Haerle's letter in a recent I-J issue concerning the students who visited Cuba. I am puzzled about what this letter actually intends to say. Cutting through the irony used, the main points seem to be these:

1. If these students went to Hungary, China, and East Germany, they would find restricted civil liberties and a meager diet.

2. Mr. Haerle apparently thinks that most people would recommend that students who would like to see these places with their own eyes should go to Hell, though he is too delicate to mention this place by name. Since he says that the I-J will be too "prissy" to print his recommendation as to what they should do there, one can only conclude that he is making some sort of psychopathic sexual reference; not surprising, considering his obvious aggressions.

If I understand Point 1 correctly, I think most people, and quite likely some of the students, would agree. Is this a good reason to stay away from a country—because in some respects it is inferior to your own? Wouldn't it be wiser to permit people to go where they will and find out what they may? Or is he afraid they might find something good?

As to Point 2, I'll leave that one to the psychiatrists.

The big difference between Rabelais, to whom Mr. H. refers, and Mr. H. himself, is that the former was willing and eager to go right ahead, look, see, learn and live, while the latter is all for sticking his head in the sand of this best of all possible beaches. This, to use a quotation in his own manner, is a very vulnerable position.

People Maybe Like Digit Dialing

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Attached is a copy of a letter I have just sent to the California Public Utilities Commission.

In view of the fact that the commission has stopped the phone company from converting to digit dialing, it is time for all those in favor of progress to let the commission know there are some people around that like all number dialing.

From the statements of some of the opponents of digit dialing it sounds like they were opposing it just to be ANTI.

NEIL E. POWER
Lagunitas

Points made:

1. Please don't be swayed by some sentimentalists that can't stand progress. Why not get the facts for yourself? I suggest that you ask samplings of phone users which system they like best.

2. Certainly some research firm could verify which system offers the most combinations and would ultimately be the most efficient and economical.

3. We, the "little people," are counting on you to do what is fair for all. We do not view the phone company as some monster. Actually, more of us should thank them for the service they provide.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

John Straley tells about a rich man's son who was so slow on the uptake it took him seven years to go through high school—yet he longed to go to college. The father reluctantly agreed to stake him IF he could answer a few simple questions. The first question propounded by Pop was "What's what?" "I don't know," admitted the son — and was promptly put to work in a menial job at Pop's plant.

Came the time for the son's first vacation, and off he went to the big city to see the sights. In a bar, a very beautiful girl suggested that he buy her a drink or two. The boy pointed to a mole on her shoulder and inquired, "What's that?"

"What's what?" asked the beautiful girl.

"Holy mackerel," gasped the boy. "If I'd known that—today I'd be in college!"

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Critics of a proposed Mill Valley land use ordinance attacked provisions to restrict rental of rooms in private homes, also parking and variance provisions.

The City of Belvedere dropped condemnation action for 25 acres of tideland property because Mayor James Michael and others feared a $36,000 bond issue to acquire the land could not pass.

20 YEARS AGO

"The friendly Northwestern Pacific" advertised in San Rafael that "24 hours every day we're battling on the transportation front to serve our country and Redwood Empire industries."

Taxable value of Marin County property rose 10.3 per cent from 1939 to 1943, according to statistics of the California Taxpayers Assn.

Mrs. Paul Jones, rationing official, said that ration book issuance indicated a Marin County population of 58,000 as compared with 52,907 in the 1940 census.

'Cal-Vet' Finance Program Help For Minority-Group Veterans

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The plan of Gov. Edmund G. Brown to extend the state's low-interest "Cal-Vet" farm and home financing program may pose some problems but none, according to Joseph M. Farber, director of veterans affairs, which are at present insurmountable.

The governor says the suggested program is aimed at reaching some retired veterans, and many veterans of minority races. Studies already made indicate between 800 and 1,000 loans a year would be made to veterans under the present $3,600 annual income required, and the $1,800 income which would be the new minimum requirement for loans.

Thus approximately from 10 to 12 million dollars annually would be released from the veterans fund, which now has a surplus of 45 million dollars available for loans, and still has 310 million in authorized bonds to sell.

THE PROGRAM in effect would serve to provide homes for some elderly persons, as age would not be a consideration in making the loans.

Payments could be worked out, according to Farber, to make payments on the homes acquired under the new program cheaper than a lot of elderly persons dependent on small incomes, cheaper than rent they are paying at the present time.

While the original purpose of the Cal-Vet program was the making of loans to veterans who could not qualify for loans from banks or savings associations, this original purpose has been deflected to some extent.

Farber points out that during his incumbency as director of the department, there have been but few loans to persons with under $300 per month income, but the department knows of many who are making less than $300 per month, and paying around $75 per month rent.

"THIS NEW program," Farber says, "would permit these people to own their own homes, and still pay less than rent."

While the plan is to drop income levels, there still will be some of the same standards of the department required for qualification. Veterans, Farber said, still would have to present good financial reports, and demonstrate ability to meet the house payments.

And further, the housing will not be decreased in standards of construction. Farber says in other words, the department doesn't intend to permit loans on cheaply constructed housing.

The state would have little if any concern over the life expectancy of the elderly veterans who might participate in the program, due to the fact that death of the owner would not remove the property from the mortgageship of the state. The property either could be re-sold by heirs, or repossessed for use of some other veteran.

IT WAS ALSO pointed out that the program would have some effect on the building industry in California by making possible another 12 million dollars a year in construction.

The Cal-Vet program, which has been in operation in California since the mid-1920s, has had an amazingly successful record of achievement.

Farber says that even now there are approximately 132,000 veteran farm and home loans outstanding, and only 100 repossessions are active at the present time.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Teddy Kennedy Reluctantly Joins Anti-President Push

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Sen. Edward "Teddy" Kennedy has reluctantly taken his first politically explosive stand against his brother's administration.

The youngest of the Kennedy brothers secretly joined other members of the powerful Senate Judiciary Committee in blasting the State Department for its laxity in handling security cases and withholding information from Congress.

In a confidential 10-page "Memorandum of Fact," which was hand-delivered to Secretary of State Rusk, the senators bluntly challenged the department's banning of security officers and other State Department personnel from testifying before the Senate Judiciary Internal Security Subcommittee.

THEY DEMANDED that Secretary Rusk personally halt the department's move to oust Otto Otepka, 48, chief of the evaluation division in the department's Office of Security, questioning the validity of the charges against him.

Citing chapter and verse of numerous instances of the department's laxness in handling security risk cases, the senators listed what they described as "untrue" statements made to the subcommittee by a high department official while under oath.

Before joining in the decision to send the explosive memorandum to Secretary Rusk, Senator Kennedy, a member of the full judiciary committee, argued against hasty action and suggested a delay for further investigation.

However, after this meek plea failed, young Kennedy later supported Sen. James Eastland, chairman, in his request to press the showdown by sending the memorandum to Rusk.

SENATOR EASTLAND, who is also chairman of the Internal Security Subcommittee, demanded the head-on collision with the State Department after he learned that Rusk had silenced Otepka, his subcommittee's star witness, and was preparing to oust him because of information he had furnished the senators.

According to the memorandum, the gag order is contrary to Title V, Section 42, of the U.S. code which states that the right of any member of the classified civil service to furnish information to any member of Congress shall not be denied. This law was passed by Congress in 1948.

It also states that the order is in violation of concurrent resolutions of the House and Senate in 1958, which provide:

"Any person in government service should put loyalty to highest moral principles and to country above loyalty to persons, party or governmental department."

These congressional actions and laws have become the focal point in the senators' head-on conflict with the State Department's refusal to cooperate with Congress, and in the department's handling of the Otepka case.

A FAMILY PROBLEM — This approaching showdown between the congressional and executive branches of government presents the three Kennedy brothers with one of the most delicate problems of their political careers.

As the lines are now drawn, the controversy pits "Teddy" against his brothers, President Kennedy and Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, since they are privately supporting the State Department.

Despite this embarrassing position, Senator Kennedy has secretly kept both of his brothers informed, as best he can, of the Senate investigation of State Department security problems.

Although not a member of the Internal Security Subcommittee, he has used his privilege as a member of the full Judiciary Committee to sit in on the subcommittee's executive sessions.

When one State Department employee, who used to work in the office of President Kennedy when he was a senator, was questioned by subcommittee members, "Teddy" was on hand for the entire hearing, taking voluminous notes.

A Policeman's Lot Is Hard, Thus It Pays To Have A Hamburger

MILL VALLEY — the sleepy little village—has uttered a noise.

In Si Wiel's bottle shop window is a sign: "Franklin Hospital Special. Feel like a king."

In Strawbridge's Stationery Store Fred Holmboe says: "Things are happening in our little town."

Parents are talking about it at "meet the teacher nights."

Mrs. Claudia O'Connor of Fall Arts Festival fame didn't know about the special council meeting last Monday. But she carefully turned all the artists' paintings face toward the wall, away from the politicos.

TIMES ARE NOT ordinary in the town of the trees, dogs and the wonderful "tight little library."

However, when times are tough, we find it best to continue looking things straight in the eye. After all, maybe we need some plain talk such as our nation was founded upon.

Democracy is easy to mouth, less easy to practice. Soon we will see how "big" this little town is.

One guy who keeps his head when others are losing theirs is Brown Dog. We see him when we're pooped, going home from work at night. He sits on the sidewalk, brown of coat, honest of eye, no pretensions. Just dog.

ALSO COMFORTING these days in the town of the newly-found rats are those horses who live on Kite Hill above Edna Maguire School. There are Belle, Bay and Pogo.

Horsewoman Thea Hogan, who says she has three horses and two in the oven, explains horses this way: "There's something about the outside of a horse that is good for the inside of man."

Sammy, Jessica and David Rosenak's beagle who lives on our street has a sign around his neck, "Don't feed me," because school has begun. Mrs. Margaret Goodyear has a dog who has had two kidney stone operations and still likes to slide down slides.

After the fire at the Village Fair we watched Mr. and Mrs. John Korenian, in boots, roll some of 70 oriental rugs away to be washed, and the Jack Hazens drain water from wet Christmas cards.

Artists Elizabeth Vreeland and Elsie Pomeroy were not hit. Seth Wood gave up, went fishing, caught five fish.

DOLPH BARNETT said Acting Fire Chief John Terris hurt himself when a burned floor gave away but proceeded to visit shop owners, unsolicited, giving out tarps to cover merchandise and heavy duty searchlights for lightless shops.

Our man in Tiburon tells us the voices have changed in the area of Del Mar School from shrill, wee ones and small whistles to husky voices in P.E. classes chanting "One, two, one two."

Reason: last year it was up to fourth grade, this year it's a junior high.

THE OTHER DAY a new deputy sheriff was on his very first assignment in southern Marin. While waiting for his colleague to come on duty, he had ordered a hamburger.

The experienced deputy arrived as did a hurry up call to go to a house where there was trouble.

"What shall I do with the hamburger?" asked the rookie.

"Bring it along," said his colleague.

On arrival at the home a mother brought out two of her children, one eight, one six, and said, "Now, I told you I would call the police if you didn't stop fighting."

Stealing Runs In The Family, And Anyhow, Joel's Only 10

WASHINGTON—We don't know about the rest of the country but our family has been very much impressed by the Valachi hearings. Just the other evening, at 1 a.m. to be exact, as we were about to go to sleep, our wife said:

"I have something to tell you."

"What is it?"

"Joel stole some money today."

JOEL IS 10 years old. Stealing runs in the family and so we didn't get too excited about it.

"How much did he steal?"

"Five cents," she replied.

"You better call the McClellan committee," we said, punching the pillow several times.

"Don't make a joke of it. It isn't the money that concerns me. It's the fact that he lied about it. When I asked him where the five cents were, he said he lost it. I found out later he spent it on candy."

"A regular Cosa Nostra," we said. "Can't we hold hearings on it in the morning?"

"WELL, YOU may want your son to grow up and be a gangster or a racketeer, but I don't. You're taking this entirely too lightly."

"All kids steal at 10 years old," we said, trying to use logic, which is always a mistake at midnight. "And when they steal, they lie about it. What kind of a thief would he be if he confessed just because you asked him to?"

"Did you ever steal at 10 years old?"

"Did I steal? I stole everything, and none of this penny ante stuff, either. If it wasn't worth a quarter, we weren't interested."

"You certainly are setting a fine example. If you want to know the truth, I think Joel has criminal instincts."

"All 10-year-old boys have criminal instincts," we said. "Stealing and lying is part of growing up."

"BUT IF he wanted five cents, why didn't he ask for it?"

"Because that's not any fun. Stealing is fun. You can't imagine how delicious candy tastes when it's been bought with stolen money."

"I don't like your attitude at all. I've been watching those hearings on television and I don't mind telling you they scare me."

We thought the discussion had ended and we were just dozing off when she said, "Maybe we should give him riding lessons?"

"What for?" we said trying to stifle a yawn.

"So he'd have an interest in things. You don't do anything with him. No wonder he's turning into a criminal."

"WHAT DO you want me to do with him?"

"Take him fishing. Play football with him. Do what other fathers do with their sons."

"I don't like fishing. He doesn't enjoy playing football with me and I don't think we should change our way of life because he stole five cents."

"Probably Valachi's father said the same thing about his son."

"I don't know if that is so or not. But I have a theory as to why Valachi went bad."

"What's that?"

"The reason Valachi turned into a criminal is because his mother would never let his father go to sleep at night."

Pay Recovered Show Drop

The State Division of Labor Law Enforcement says for the second year in a row it has broken the $3 million mark in recovery of unpaid wages.

For the last fiscal year, the agency says in a report, it recovered $3,612,813 compared to $3,044,941 in the previous fiscal period. It was a rise of 18.6 per cent.

The California Youth Authority reports that a survey of all jails and lock-ups in the state where juveniles under 18 years are held for more than 24 hours shows that 6,300 youngsters were detained last year by 81 law enforcement agencies.

Here Are Letters That It Would Be Nice To Get!

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Fragments from letters people would like to get—but rarely do:

"For some reason, dad, ever since I married the dean's daughter all my professors are giving me better grades, and it now looks like I'll make Phi Beta Kappa for sure.

"The dean also managed to wangle me a $3,000 scholarship, so you can discontinue sending me my allowance, as I really don't need it any more."

"IT'S A MYSTERY to me why my secretary sent you a bill for $513 for your new dental plate. Actually, she got the figures backward.

"The amount should be $315, but I feel so embarrassed over the error, I'm going to knock off another $100 and make it a flat $215. But there's no rush. Send me your check whenever it's convenient."

"You don't know me, but I'm Rudolf Bing, and I manage the Metropolitan Opera. While out for a stroll the other evening I passed beneath your apartment, and couldn't help overhearing the bawling out your wife was giving you.

"We haven't had a dramatic soprano voice like hers in our company for years. If your wife would care to audition for us, I'm sure we could reach contract terms agreeable to all concerned."

"THE YEARS have done poorly by me since our high school mates picked you as class dunce and voted me the boy most likely to succeed. But the post as custodian at City Hall is going to open up soon, and I know I can get it with a little pull.

"The next time you play golf with the mayor would you mind putting in a good word for me—for old times' sake?"

"Frankly, Mr. Schmerz, we feel that if your small son hadn't made faces at Jojo and stuck his fingers through the bars, he wouldn't have been bitten. Jojo is one of the most sensitive baboons we've ever had in our pet shop.

"However, since we are about to sign Jojo to a starring role in a new television show, we are willing to settle your lawsuit out of court for a cash lump sum of $2,500, and forget the whole matter."

"ALTHOUGH you say you merely raised your hand to stifle a yawn, our auctioneer took it as a signal you were bidding $35,000 for Von Rumpsprungle's famous landscape, 'Cows in the Watercress,' and closed the sale.

"This morning a noted collector came to us and offered $50,000 for the painting. Would you care to part with it for this amount, minus our usual commission, of course?"

Consider Error In Planning Play In Game Of Bridge

If you and your opponents always play perfect bridge you can skip today's column.

The sad fact is that some players fall short of perfection, and if you count on this possibility you can bring home many "impossible" contracts.

When this hand came along last month in the regional tournament in San Francisco, Harry Reichman made a very pretty play. Fortunately for the Los Angeles expert, the defense was not equally pretty.

PROBLEM

West opened the seven of hearts, East put up the queen, and Reichman paused for thought. He was surely going to lose a heart, a spade, and a club. The problem was to prevent West from ruffing a heart.

Reichman solved his problem by dropping the jack of hearts at the first trick.

Back came a low heart, and declarer was able to play low from his own hand, winning in dummy with the nine.

IMPORTANT

Having arrived in dummy, declarer was able to cash the ace of diamonds, discarding the ace of hearts from his hand. This discard was a key play, since it removed the danger of a heart ruff by West.

Reichman could lead a trump from dummy, ruff high when East returned a heart, draw trumps, and take two finesses in clubs.

Since one club finesse worked, declarer lost only one club, one heart and one spade.

ERROR

Of course, you've seen the defensive error. East should see what is going on when South drops the jack of hearts on his queen. At the second trick, East should return the king of hearts instead of a low heart.

South must take the ace of hearts but cannot reach dummy to discard a heart on the ace of diamonds.

(If South leads a club to dummy's ace, he will eventually lose two club tricks instead of only one.)

When East gets in with the ace of spades he leads a third heart for West to ruff.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Oct. 7, the 280th day of 1963 with 85 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning star is Jupiter. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1777, American revolutionary forces led by Gen. Horatio Gates defeated the British in the second Battle of Saratoga, N.Y.

In 1940, troops of Nazi Germany occupied Rumania in World War II.

In 1960, at least 51 persons were killed or missing when typhoon Kit hit the Philippines.

In 1961, 37 persons were killed when a British derby aviation DC-3 crashed in the French Pyrenees.

A thought for the day — James Whitcomb Riley said: "The ripest peach is highest on the tree."

FIRST STEP IN FLOOD CONTROL

Bret Harte industrial property owners, who took it on themselves to do something about annual flooding after ruling out an assessment district project totaling nearly one million dollars, are shown at work Saturday driving piles for deepening drainage canal channel leading under Highway 101. Melvin Geister is at controls of crane, Carl Rickards on pole, and William M. Davis (left) and Homer Rickards, in canal. Dredging channel was under way today. A 48-inch Army barge propeller is to be installed in culvert to drive water through toward San Rafael canal. Northwestern Pacific Railroad today had pump removed from drainage canal at DeLuca Place for re-installation at Francisco Boulevard. Railroad also will enlarge culvert under tracks from 4-by-4 feet to 15-by-6 feet. (Independent-Journal photo)

Mill Valley Meeting Under Discussion

No meeting with the Mill Valley City Council has been set by Mill Valley's newly formed committee of five to discuss the council's proposed firing of City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants.

Robert R. Laughead, one of the five committee men, said today he telephoned Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks Friday to arrange for the meeting but that neither he nor Sheeks was to be in town for the weekend. He said the committee, formed Friday, hopes to set up the meeting as soon as possible.

The committee was formed at a meeting of the "people's committee for better government."

Almcrants turned in his resignation Sept. 27 then withdrew it Sept. 30 following public support. Following this, three councilmen announced they plan to fire the city manager.

The council, which meets in regular session tonight, will hear a subcommittee report on proposed underground utilities for the city.

Also on the agenda is a report on the progress of the proposed community center building, a progress report from city engineer Stanley M. Bala on the Marion Avenue slide, and the first reading of an ordinance to establish the mandatory age for retirement of city employees at 65. It is now 70.

Lions Club Party

The Corte Madera Lions Club will hold its charter night party in the town recreation center Oct. 12, starting at 7 p.m. Dinner will be served at 8 p.m. and dancing will begin at 10 p.m., according to chairman John McDermott, chairman.

Teen-Agers Cited At Saturday Dance

Six citations were issued to persons attending the teen dance at the Corte Madera Recreation Center Saturday night, and one 18-year-old youth was detained and released in custody of his father on suspicion of drunkenness, Sgt. David L. McIntosh of police reported today.

The citations were for beer in cars or having no drivers' licenses, said McIntosh.

THE BOSS ARRIVES IN STYLE

Rolfe C. Croker, president of Pacific Coast Title Co., is carried into the firm's new building at 900 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, by Republic Van Line movers Duane Graf (left) and Larry Hill, to be greeted by vice president William J. Winterburn, already at desk. The firm opened business today in the new two-story building, its third home since organization in 1956. Second floor is to be occupied by realtor broker Gary Brown, Marin Mortgage Co., and certified public accountants Dalton, Graupner and Barber. Architects Carl F. Gromme and Ralph Priestley designed the building. Walter J. Kubon was contractor. (Independent-Journal photo)

Plane Makes Landing On Marin Beach

A Carmel man, whose plane was low on gasoline and too far from an airport, made an emergency landing Saturday on 10 Mile Beach, about four miles north of the Point Reyes lighthouse, narrowly missing driftwood scattered along the sand.

Don C. Adams, 34, and his two sons, Kevin, 13, and Keith, 11, were returning from a fishing trip at Klamath Falls in a rented Piper Apache four-seater. According to sheriff's deputy Jack Santos, the plane was supposed to stop for fuel at Ukiah.

But the airport was closed in by fog, and the plane headed south looking for another airfield. Finally Adams became lost in the fog and called the Coast Guard for help.

A Coast Guard plane located Adams' rented craft by radar, and guided it to Point Reyes. Yesterday a tractor from the James Spaletta ranch nearby pulled the plane two miles to a relatively flat area on the ranch, where it took off to complete the trip.

Haile Selassie Ends U.S. Visit

NEW YORK (AP)—Ethiopia's emperor, Haile Selassie, ended an official visit to this country today, declaring that ties had been strengthened between the United States and his homeland.

He said his talks with President John F. Kennedy were "mutually beneficial" and had reinforced the existing relations between the two nations.

The 71-year-old emperor made the statement at Idlewild Airport before boarding a Canadian plane for Canada.

After his visit to Canada, the emperor is scheduled to go to Bermuda and then to Guinea, Mali Federation and other African lands before flying to Paris for another state visit.

Clerk Prevented From Jumping Off Bridge

Lester Melvin Williams, 34, a San Francisco hotel clerk, was prevented from leaping from Golden Gate Bridge about noon yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Highway Patrol officer John Allison reported he found toll plaza Lt. Edward Ashoff talking to Williams, who was standing on a girder under the east railing near the south tower.

Ahoff grabbed Williams' arm and pulled while Allison put a rope through the railing and passed it under both of Williams' arms. The two then wrestled the clerk over the railing.

Williams said he had family problems. He was taken by San Francisco police to San Francisco General Hospital.

The car of Steven E. Ramey, 31, of San Francisco was found abandoned on the parking lot below the toll plaza about 3:05 p.m. Friday, reported CHP officer James T. Cahill.

He reported a neighbor of Ramey, Dr. G. M. Akin, found the car after Ramey did not return from work Thursday night after leaving a suicide note at his home. Akin said Ramey had been "withdrawn and repressed for two days" and had made three attempts to commit suicide.

Cahill said no one had reported witnessing anyone jump.

Terra Linda Homeowners Still Protest Apartments

Approximately 135 Terra Linda homeowners unanimously agreed yesterday not to compromise in their fight against construction of apartment houses on a hill overlooking their homes.

Ray I. Johnson, Kentfield contractor, offered a compromise plan to the residents at a meeting at Oliver R. Hartzell School, Mrs. Keith Roberts, one of the protesting homeowners reported.

The compromise offer included 300 apartments instead of the originally proposed 430, buffer zones and underground utilities, she said.

After Johnson left, they voted against "apartment houses of any kind," she said.

The homeowners will have representatives at a meeting of the San Rafael Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow for a second hearing on a request to zone the hill for apartments.

The hill overlooks homes on Golden Hinde Boulevard, Los Ranchitos Road and Nova Albion Way.

Two Hurt As Cars Hit In San Rafael

John Nick Bogdanoff, 20, of 145 Hawthorne Drive, Larkspur, was treated for bruises on his right leg early today after the car he was driving flipped onto its left side when struck broadside at Lincoln Avenue and Third Street.

Bogdanoff's car was struck at 1:50 a.m. by a car being driven by Samuel Wesley James of 1135 Fourth Street, San Rafael. Also injured in the accident was Peter Wablewski, 18, of the Wilkins Hotel, San Rafael, who was treated for scrapes on his left leg.

Named To Ag Board

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today appointed Morro Bay contractor Jesse E. Drake, 53, to the board of directors of the 16th District Agricultural Assn. at Paso Robles. Drake succeeds Alto Lee, who died.

Dodger Sweep Could Mean Start Of A New Dynasty

By JOE REICHLER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers' incredible four-game World Series sweep over the New York Yankees could be the start of a new dynasty and the end of an old one.

The world champion Dodgers, loaded with youth, speed, confidence, pep and pitching, could rule the National League for years to come.

The ability to draw upwards of two million annually in this ever-growing area and their spacious new stadium is bound to pour additional millions of dollars into an already bulging treasury and enable the front office to pay handsome bonuses to promising youngsters.

The humiliating four-game downfall not only is a loss to the Yankees' pride and prestige but is bound to encourage the rest of the American League clubs which have acted as puppeteers on Yankee strings for many, many years.

Sandy Koufax' brilliant pitching yesterday in the 2-1 Dodger haymaker proved again what Dodger pitching had shown during the entire series—that strong pitching can beat good hitting teams, even such power hitting teams like the Yankees.

The three Dodger starters—Johnny Podres, Don Drysdale and Koufax, with an assist from relief ace Ron Perranoski, stifled the Yankee sluggers with only 22 hits, an average of under six per game. Koufax, who started the sweep with a 5-2 victory over Whitey Ford in the opener, permitted only six hits yesterday and lost his shutout when Mickey Mantle homered in the seventh.

The Yankees scored only four runs in four games.

"The Dodgers' great pitching beat us, nothing else," said Yankee Manager Ralph Houk, who accepted the defeat, his first in three World Series, philosophically. "We simply couldn't score enough runs."

"I've never seen such tremendous pitching all around in my 10 years with the Dodgers," said Los Angeles Manager Walter Alston, who also had led Dodgers teams to world championships in 1955 and 1959.

The Dodgers didn't exactly knock down any fences. They amassed only 25 hits, two yesterday, but as Alston said: "We got our hits when they counted the most. That's the way we've played all year."

Ford, who lost both the first and fourth games, pitched brilliantly yesterday. He permitted only two hits, both by big Frank Howard, who broke a scoreless pitching duel with a 450-foot home run in the fifth inning.

The winning run was unearned. It came in the bottom of the seventh after the Yankees had evened the score on Mantle's 15th series home run, which tied Babe Ruth's record for most homers in series play.

Jim Gilliam opened the Dodgers' seventh with a bouncer to third. Clete Boyer made a leaping stop and good throw to first but Joe Pepitone let the ball go through him. By the time the first baseman had retrieved the bounding ball, Gilliam was on third, from where he scored on Willie Davis' sacrifice fly to Mantle in deep right center.

"I lost the ball in the sun and in the white shirts of the grandstands," Pepitone explained later. "It hit my wrist, then my forearm, then my chest. All I could see was shirts."

Pep's misplay was the only Yankee error of the series.

Koufax, the series hero with two victories, fanned eight yesterday to boost his two-game total 23, a record for a series of seven games or less. It was only the second time the Dodgers had beaten the Yankees in eight post season classics. The only other win came in 1955 when the Dodgers were in Brooklyn.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Superior N.L. Pitching Evident In Dodger Sweep Over Yankees

CONNOLLY

"They did it!"

Joe DeMaestri of San Rafael, former N.Y. Yankee infielder, stunned as every Yank rooter was, quickly summed up the Dodgers' four-game sweep in the 1963 World Series by declaring:

"Dodger pitching paralyzed Yankee bats. I never believed the National League owned that kind of hurlers."

Yep, it's true, Joe — the National League has superb pitching. There are good ones on each of the 10 clubs. Some clubs, like the Dodgers, are blessed with more depth than others. And it was pitching depth that caught the great Yankee aggregation asleep.

Most of the odds-makers forgot the Dodgers were playing heads up ball right down to the last day of the regular season. On the other hand, the Yankees, being 12 games in front, learned to loaf and take everything in stride. This year their goose-step was a weary one. Their bats were too heavy, and their thinking wasn't sharp. It was a series of such things that proved their own undoing. The Yanks were stale and listless and their pitchers deserved better treatment. Whitey Ford pitched two games that were good enough to win but you can't win ball games singing commercials. You have to get some hits and some runs. And in both departments the Yanks were stranded.

IN A LEAGUE like the American now has, signs of decay show up everywhere. And the Yankees are so close to the picture they don't seem to be aware of it. They get the old ego "We're the Yanks" and until 1963, bluffed their way through. But the seven lean years of famine has already set in. And before another American League season opens "Major-General" Ralph Houk will have to shake some of his complacency out of his boots and start rebuilding.

I predicted the series would be taken by the Dodgers in four, or, at the most, five games. I knew before the series started the Yanks were not as good as painted. Anyone could detect it last year watching them narrowly beat the S.F. Giants.

IF YOU examined the 1963 batting averages and pitching averages of the Yanks and Dodgers, carefully, there was a big discrepancy in favor of the National Leaguers. Yet the odds makers, so sure of the Yanks, blindly established them favorites, only to eat their odds after the first game.

The speed of the Dodgers on the bases worried the Yanks from the beginning almost as much as the pitching. And instead of the Yanks being the powerhouse club, they proved just the opposite. Too bad Roger Maris couldn't play and that Mickey Mantle wasn't up to snuff. The Mick showed his power in the final game.

But year after the year the Yankees have been scraping through vastly inferior competition, so it's about time they woke up and started rebuilding with some fence busters. They seem to have good pitching, which isn't any good if you haven't strong hitting. The Giants proved that point clearly.

IT'S PRETTY easy this year to pick out the World Series hero. Just take three guesses and don't count the first two and you'll arrive with the name that is known as Sizzling Sandy Koufax. He is the number one pick of everybody, even the Yankees.

In summing up the World Series, the Dodgers can be very happy and very proud, excepting of course ,it will be a minus pool for owner Walter O'Malley. For a clubowner to wax fat in a World Series, it has to travel at least six games for them to feather their own nest. And this one, while a juicy one, only went four games.

Better luck next time, Mr. O'Malley.

Redwood Is Grid Leader

Redwood Junior Giants were resting today on top of the Marin Pop Warner Football League standings.

Redwood took over the top spot Saturday night when it downed previously unbeaten Terra Linda's Junior Trojans, 14-7, on San Rafael High School's football field. Redwood now has a 2-0 mark and Terra Linda is 1-1 in league play.

The Giants scored in the opening quarter when Joe Murphy intercepted a pass and ran 35 yards for a touchdown on the second play of the game. Kenny Johnson kicked the extra point.

Then in the fourth quarter, Bill Sather scored from the three after a short drive was set up by blocked punt. Johnson again kicked the PAT. Lone Trojan TD was scored by Keith Sterling on a plunge from the two. The extra point was made by Tom Thomas.

Following the Redwood-Terra Linda clash, famed Ernie Nevers, new member of the Football Hall of Fame, was presented the game ball by the Giants.

In other games, San Anselmo downed San Rafael, 19-6, Saturday night and Novato outscored Mill Valley, 21-14, yesterday at Novato.

Iacopi Stars For Drake Frosh Team

Drake's frosh football team blanked Kenilworth 13-0 Friday in Petaluma as backfield ace Tony Iacopi scored all of the points.

In was a one-man show on offense, but a team show on defense as the large Drake team held the Petaluma squad to a one first down in the entire game.

Money-Bags Palmer Strikes Gold Again

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Arnold Palmer says he has to play more often to shoot winning golf but the suspicion is growing among the touring pros that it's green, not greens, that brings out the best in the richest linksman of all time.

Palmer, 33, won the richest PGA prize of them all yesterday, the $26,000 first prize of the $125,000 Whitemarsh Open with a 72-hole total of 281. The win made Palmer the holder of the three biggest tournament checkse of 1963—$26,000 here, $25,000 in the Tunderbird classic and $22,000 in the Cleveland Open. Palmer's seventh tourney triumph of 1963 brought his record earnings this year to $127,555.

Birdies on the 15th and 17th holes and a par on the 18th enabled Palmer to post a one-stroke victory over veteran Lionel Hebert who pocketed $13,000 for the runner-up spot.

Old Sam Snead, who finished with a six under par 66, and Al Balding, Canadian PGA champion, tied for third at 283, each earning $6,750.

Don January and Mason Rudolph were next with 284s and $4,700 each, while U.S. Open champion Julius Boros shared a three-way tie at 285 and $3,400 apiece. PGA and Masters champion Jack Nicklaus wound up with a 289 and $1,600, even with his final round 67.

I-J READERS TIPPED OFF

Oddsmakers and most sports writers favored the Yankees in the World Series. Those who picked the Dodgers said it would go six games.

But on Friday, Sept. 27, readers of the Independent-Journal knew just what to expect. John J. Connolly, author of "The Bullpen" column, predicted a Dodger victory, possibly in four games and in no more than five.

This Makes Up For Everything: Alston

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers felt he was all square with the baseball fates today—and Manager Ralph Houk of the Yankees was glad for him.

In the tight little union of baseball managers, they all know how tough it can get for each other. Alston was just getting even and Houk still was far in front.

"This makes up for everything," Alston said with quiet satisfaction, recalling last year's playoff defeat by the San Francisco Giants.

And gallant loser Ralph Houk, who lost his first series after winning two, said if his Yankees had to go down to defeat he was glad it was to a club like the Dodgers.

"I'm glad for Alston," he said. "After the frustrating season they had the year before, I'm happy it was a club like the Dodgers that won."

'I LOST IT'

But only misery was the lot of Yankee first baseman Joe Pepitone, who blamed himself for the defeat and sat with head bowed in the clubhouse while his teammates quietly accepted the loss as their fate.

"I lost it," Pepitone said with a catch in his throat, recalling how he let third baseman Clete Boyer's throw get away from him and resulted in a gift run for the Dodgers—the run that dropped the curtain on the Yankees.

"Boyer's throw was perfect," Pepitone said. "I just lost it in the crowd. The ball hit me on the right wrist, then went up my arm and bounced off my chest."

The Dodgers clubhouse was a wild scene as players poured champagne on each other, yelled and embraced while hundreds of reporters milled around them.

And the center of attention was pitcher Sandy Koufax, winner of the first and fourth games and hero of the series.

The handsome southpaw disagreed with Alston, who thought he pitched better in New York. Koufax said he threw a more consistent game in the clincher.

"Over all, I thought I pitched a better ball game today," he said. "Strikeouts by themselves don't mean much. I felt my fast ball was better than my curve in the game here."

Indian Valley Golf Tourney To Start

Representatives from nine women's golf clubs will compete in the Indian Valley Invitatioinal tournament tomorrow and Wednesday at the Novato golf course.

Tee off time will be from 8 to 9 a.m. both days and the course will be closed until noon during the competition. Mrs. Lynn Sumpter, captain of the Indian Valley club, is chairman of the tourney. Mrs. George Nolan is in charge of trophies.

Sixty reservations have been made by members from Mill Valley, Meadow, Peacock Gap, Marin, Indian Valley, Sonoma, Sacramento, and Lincoln and Sharps Park in San Francisco.

49ers Can't Shake The Losing Habit

DETROIT (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers—new coach, new quarterbacks, but the same old habit—will try it again Sunday at Memorial Stadiums in Beltimore.

Yesterday at Detroit they netted 61 yards for the day, fumbled four times, and lost 10 yards overall on the same number of pass completions in falling to the Lions, 26-3.

The new coach was former Lion defensive back Jack Christiansen; the new quarterbacks, Bobby Waters and LaMar McHan, and the new loss string is now 11 in a row, dating to the final two games of last season, including five exhibitions.

The Lions darted to a 14-0 advantage in the first quarter, Earl Morrall's two-yard pass to Terry Barr getting the first touchdown, and a 90-yard punt return by Tom Watkins accounting for the second.

Watkins' dash erased by one yard the Lions' team distance record for a punt return. The old mark had stood since 1951 when Christiansen carried a punt 89 yards to a touchdown against Green Bay.

Watkins also broke Christiansen's one-game-total punt return record of 175 yards. The Detroit safety handled five of the 49ers' nine punts, and carried them 184 yards.

Christiansen's career interception mark of 41 remained intact, however—the Lion defenders got hold of only one San Francisco pass.

Tommy Davis' 31-yard field goal midway in the second period made it 14-3, and San Francisco held for an 11-point deficit at the half.

Bruce Maher's block of Davis' punt, the ball rolling out of the end zone, made it 16-13 in the third quarter, and Wayne Walker's 45-yard field goal hiked it to 19-13.

A 30-yard pass from Milt Plum to Gail Cogdill in the fourth period closed the scoring.

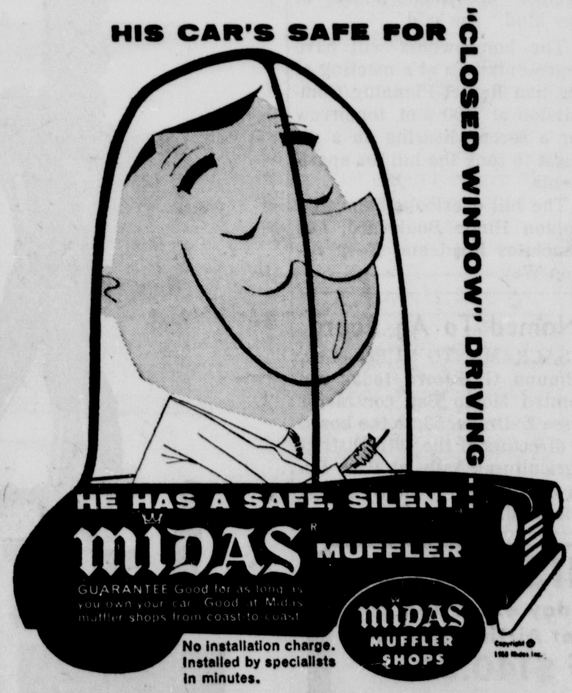

Christiansen's reaction to his smashed records was that "they're made to be broken (the records)." Concerning the way his former team treated his headcoaching debut, however, he was less poetic:

"It's as good a place to start as any, I guess," he said.

Drake Downs Terra Linda, Faces Redwood Saturday

By RALPH CHATOIAN

The Drake High School Pirates, winners of their first game of Marin Athletic League 1963 competition, will get a stiff test Saturday when they bump heads with the Redwood High Giants in Drake's bid for top supremacy of the league.

Drake, making a serious threat for the championship, will have to get past league favorite Redwood before its hope for the first football championship in the school's history can materialize.

The Pirates held off a stubborn Terra Linda Trojan team last Saturday afternoon for a 19-6 victory before about 1,800 persons in College of Marin's grid arena in the two teams' league opener.

Drake's sophomore sensation Dean Lazzarini brought the crowd to its feet on the opening play from scrimmage when he found a hole over right tackle on a draw play and scampered 67 yeards for a touchdown. Displaying flashing speed, the halfback broke through the hole and easily outran the secondary, leaving the Trojan defenders with mouths wide open. Terry Tadlock kicked the extra point for 7-0.

Later in that same period, Drake quarterback Mike Kemp threw a short pass to split end Larry Stein on the right side and the swiftie cut across the field, turned the corner on the left side, and raced all the way to the end zone for a TD play that netted 45 yards. With the opening quarter only half completed and the score at 13-0, it looked like it was going to be a Drake runaway.

But the mood of the game was to change with the Pirates scoring a touchdown in the fourth quarter and Terra Linda registering its lone tally in the third stanza.

For Terra Linda, it was some excellent passing and a great call on a goal line play for the TD. Late in the third quarter, Terra Linda quarterback Bob Taylor found the range and completed five consecutive passes to take the Trojans from the Drake 48-yard line to the three.

With the Drake defenders looking for the sixth pass, Taylor handed the ball over to fullback Steve Frazzini who crashed over left tackle from the three for the Terra Linda score.

Drake's fourth quarter score was on another Kemp to Stein pass play, this one good for 25 yards. Stein made a great catch when he went in the air to pick off the pass and wrestle the ball from a Terra Linda defender.

That Kemp to Stein combination was the spark of the Drake passing game and the running of Lazzarini was the key to the rushing game. The Kemp-Stein duo was good for four completions and 84 yards, and the running of Lazzarini was good for 135 yards on the ground. In 15 carries, he averaged an amazing nine yards per carry.

Terra Linda passed up a chance to score in the third quarter, and it might have changed the whole complexion of the game. On a fourth down play, the Trojans punted to the Drake 13-yard line but the ball bounced out of the hands of Terry Tadlock and a swarm of Terra Lindans piled up on the ball—Terra Linda first and 10 on the 13.

A loss of four yards, a five-yard penalty and two incomplete passes pushed the Trojans back to the 22 yard line where they had to give up possession of the ball.

All Big Six Teams Will See Non-Conference Grid Action

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

It's back to the proving grounds for major West Coast college football teams this week as all Big Six teams participate in non-conference competition.

Southern California meets Notre Dame, California gets Duke, Stanford takes on Rice, UCLA goes against Syracuse, Washington tackles Oregon State and Washington State plays San Jose State.

Meanwhile, UCLA rests at the top of the Big Six standings with a 1-0 record after winning 10-9 over Stanford on Saturday. The Bruins don't play another Big Six contest until Nov. 2, so they can't be in any worse positioin than a tie for the lead up to that time.

Coach Bill Barnes' outfit won from Stanford with a pass interception in the last quarter by Bobby Richardson, who raced 40 yards to the Stanford five to set up the come-from-behind score.

Southern California returned to the victory ranks with a 13-10 win over Michigan State on Friday night.

Oregon State, only unbeaten major team in the west, won over Baylor, 22-15, when Gordon Queen passed nine yards to end Dan Esplain for a touchdown with only 27 seconds remaining in the game.

Oregon scored 35 points in the first half for a 35-0 win over what was supposed to be a good West Virginia team.

Washington dropped its third consecutive tilt when Iowa scored a 17-7 triumph, but Washington State scored its first victory when Clarence Williams raced 75 yards for a touchdown that stood up in a 7-2 victory over Arizona State.

California's Jim Blakeney raced the opening kickoff back 85 yards for a touchdown, but that was just about the end of the Golden Bear offense as Pittsburgh took a 35-15 victory.

Utah State, inter-mountain powerhouse, methodically ground down San Jose State, scoring in each of the last three quarters fo ra 20-0 victory over the Spartans.

Cadets Blanked In Loop Opener

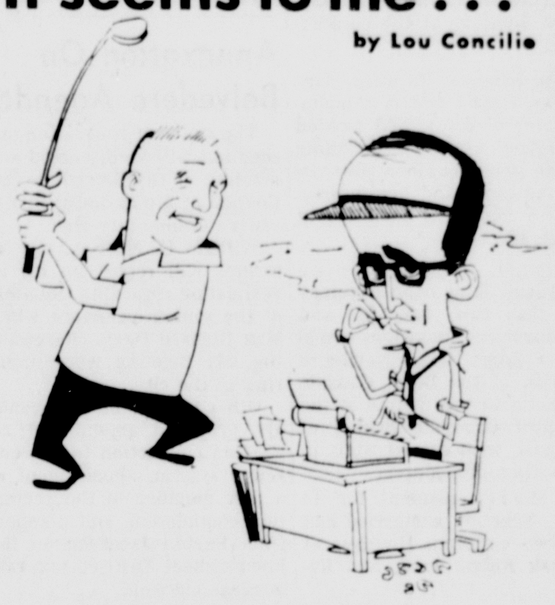

San Rafael Military Academy's Cadets lost their opening game of Bay Counties League action Saturday night in Petaluma when they fell to St. Vincents High School in a rugged defensive battle, 6-0.

The game's only touchdown came in thte second period when St. Vincent's Joe Helen plunged over the goal from the one-yard line.

Cadets coach Larry Fulton had praise for end Jim Sulgar who gained 90 yards on five pass receptions.

The Line Is Oh So Thin

Reflect with me for a moment. Humor me. Tolerate me. Doug Cowan does it constantly, and with admirable restraint. Myrl has done it for these indeterminate years, both with patience and increasing tolerance. Even Marilyn, saucy and impudent as only 18 years of accumulated worldly wisdom can induce, is becoming resigned to her relationship to a weird one.

Vagueness is a weapon I wield with magnificent bravado. It disarms and creates an advantage. If you have read this far, you have the patience of Myrl and may continue. My point is this: My activities for Ames Ford, particularly these literary (?) offerings, since they contain with remarkable candor and gall my by line, have given me a widening measure of notoriety or recognition. It is this "or" which becomes the wafer-thin line.

Reflect as I have asked, some specific endeavor of your own, if you will. Perhaps, bored with the tedium of your job, or exasperated beyond endurance over the project of preparing the brood for school each morning, you splurged on tubes of paint, an easel, yards of canvas—the whole bit—and preyed upon bucolic splendors to perpetuate the vision for an admiring posterity. You were bursting with confidence after making the expected pretence of understanding and appreciating the brush-cleaning smudges of some of today's impressionists.

You labored secretly to avoid the hoots of neighbors and mate until that day when you applied that final dab with studied and purposeful climatic triumph. Your sun looked like the sun. The cow had all four legs, and you could see her chewing her cud, now couldn't you? The grass was properly green, and the barn was there, in just the proper faded red. Your mate was escorted to your secret hiding place with proper ceremony befitting the explosive enthusiasm the unveiling would precipitate.

You whipped away the curtain with a flourish, and waited with childish anticipation. "So, this is what you've been doing, is it? And, what, pray, did you spend of our already over-extended budget? We have three cameras in this house, remember? And, prints cost only pennies in contrast, and that cow—it is supposed to be a cow, isn't it?—would actually look like one." Back to the office grind or the kids' breakfasts. Another dream gone.

I suffer these doubts, too, you know. I hate and fear disappointments, and I wonder, often, how these columns might be received, particularly with the knowledge they are written audaciously by an amateur who has to pay rather than get paid, to have them published. And, written by an automobile man, yet, whose professional status in even this status is under question.

So far, thankfully, and all fingers carefully crossed, I have enjoyed more recognition from them than notoriety. Or, so the many wonderful people who stop me and tell me they enjoyed a particular effort. I hope this recognition rubs off on Ames Ford, because, after all, this is the only justifiable reason for the entire effort. If I can convince my readers Ames Ford is an all right outfit—as Doug Cowan and I sincerely want it to be—I won't have to use the camera.

Fiberglass Firm Names President

Klaus D. Schmidt was elected president of Kimball Manufacturing Corp. at a recent meeting of directors and shareholders.

At the same time the corporate name of the parent firm was changed to Kimball-Schmidt, Inc., with its various enterprises operating as separate divisions of the corporation.

The firm has its main plant in San Rafael and is a manufacturer of diversified molded fiberglass products, including sports items, outdoor advertising materials and housewares. It also maintains facilities in Joliet, Ill.

Schmidt, previously vice president, joined the company less than two years ago and was formerly operations manager of Ames Harris Neville, a division of the Boise Cascade Corp. He took a degree at the Stanford Graduate School of Business, with special study in marketing procedures.

A Marin resident for 14 years, Schmidt is married and has two children. He lives at 79 Oak Ridge Road, San Rafael.

Coleman School Sale On Supervisor Agenda

Legal documents to pave the way for the sale of old Coleman School in San Rafael will be presented to the Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow.

This is one of the items on the agenda for the supervisors' regular meeting, which starts at 9 a.m. on the third floor of the Civic Center.

The old Coleman School building formerly housed several county departments, including the library and the planning staff. These departments are now in the Civic Center. The county hopes to get a minimum bid of $30,000 for the property.

Other items on the morning agenda include a query on whether surplus hospital equipment can be spared, and a request for use of helicopters to transport county firemen to Angel Island in an emergency.

Surplus hospital equipment is requested by the Sausalito People to People Committee, which wants to send such supplies to its sister city, Vina Del Mar, Chile.

Marin directors oft he Golden Gate Bridge District have asked for a chance to make an oral report to the supervisors.

Public works matters such as road work, and planning department items are set for the afternoon session, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Education Board Getting Member

A new board member will be sworn into office tonight at the regular meeting of the Marin County Board of Education.

She is Mrs. Edith Kanoff of Novato, who was appointed last month to succeed Walter Johnson, who resigned.

The county board of education meeting will be held on the fourth floor of the Civic Center, beginning at 8 p.m.

A four-page agenda has been drawn up by County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis, who also serves as board secretary. Reports and recommendations of various committees, and reports and general information from Superintendent Hollis comprise the bulk of the agenda.

Annexation On Belvedere Agenda

The status of annexation proceedings will be discussed at a meeting of the Belvedere City Council at 8 p.m. today in Belvedere Community Hall.

William H. MacKay, city attorney, will report on his investigation regarding violations of the zoning ordinance which Mrs. Richard Doyle charged at the last meeting were occurring in the city.

Other matters on the agenda are proposed amendment regarding connection to the city sewer system, appointment of a new member to the recreation commission, and a report from Burton Jacobson on the Reed School District tax rate increase election.

! ! WOODLAND TERRACE ! !

This weekend the weather outlook is good. Drive out to Woodland Terrace and see this new area. Ten new and distinctive homes individually designed for each lot. Careful planning and foresight have been incorporated here. So many features not found in the ordinary home. The skill and ingenuity of Herman Hein has been employed to complete the landscaping on each residence. Color selections by Lola Philhower, A.I.D. Design by Clifford Parlee. Built - in vacuum system available on all models. A wide street, a quiet traffic - free cul-de-sac, a sylvan setting, delightful views. Be our guest this weekend. Drive west on Sir Francis Drake, left on Butterfield Rd. in San Anselmo. Out Butterfield toward Sleepy Hollow, turn left on Woodside Dr. and follow the arrows. Or call us at 456-6262 or 456-5754.

Creampuffs '62 Buick Skylarks $2695

Here are two of the hardest-to-find used cars on the market today. They are Buick's best seller by far. Both are locally-owned trade-ins that we took in on new '64 Buicks.

One is jet-black with fire engine red all-leather interior. Fully equipped including power steering, power seat, power brks and power windows. A really beautiful car that has had exceptional care by its only owner. Low mileage.

The other is midnight blue with white top. Blue bucket seats and upholstery. Not a mark of wear anywhere on the car. Power steering, automatic, radio, heater, w/w tires and all the Buick luxury items. Sold new and serviced by us since.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Doctor Moves Into Sheinwold Land To Tell About Health And Bridge

VAN DELLEN

Many people get so excited playing cards in the evening, they have trouble sleeping. Others are calm and enjoy poker or gin rummy, but cannot sleep because they are unable to forget the evening's events and get all steamed up as they mull over their mistakes. I am a member of the second group and, although I enjoy cards, I'm sure it is not worth it.

A unique experiment was conducted on 30 men and women playing in a contest held by the American Duplicate Bridge Assn. The investigation was done by a bridge entuhsiast, Dr. Milton Ende of Petersburg, Va. He was interested because, on several occasions during the contest, he noted a sudden pounding of the heart and flushing of the face.

HE DECIDED to test pulse, blood pressure, and respiration after every second hand. In 16, the diastolic pressure rose to levels within the higher than normal range. The pulse rate went up to 100 or more in 11 players.

These increases occurred during the actual play of the hand rather than while bidding or defensive play. Respiration was not influenced; and no changes were noted in the electrocardiogram of 10 of the bridge fans who agreed to have this test.

THE MAJORITY of contestants had trouble sleeping the night of the game although some said they slept better on nights they played well.

The practical aspects of this novel research project are worth mentioning. In the first place, some people take bridge too seriously and tension builds up from what is supposed to be a form of relaxation. Only a few hours of sleep may be lost but playing under stress is a potential hazard for anyone with high blood pressure or heart disease.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

WE HAVE MANY ARTERIES

C. D. writes: If a person has hardening of the arteries, does this mean he has heart disease?

REPLY

Not unless the coronary arteries are plugged or narrowed to such an extent that the ehart muscle is not receiving enough blood to work efficiently. Senn stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on hardening of various arteries.

AEROSOL THERAPY

S. M. S. writes: What is the aerosol treatment of bronchitis?

REPLY

The individual inhales a fine mist containing medications that:

1. Open up the passageways (bronchodilators).
2. Liquefy the secretions (mucolytic agents).
3. Kill the causative microorganisms (antibiotics).

LUMP ON INSTEP

A. B. writes: Since childhood, I have had a lump the size of a walnut on one instep. Can it be removed successfully?

REPLY

Yes. Most of these growths are exostoses and need not be removed unless bothersome. A lump of this size must create a problem when walkin, standing, or buying shoes. Nothing more need be said.

SULFA REACTIONS

P. B. writes: Can anything be taken with a sulfa drug to counteract the side effects?

REPLY

Nausea and indigestion can be minimized by taking the tablets after eating or with milk. In addition, drinking large amounts of water helps prevent the chemical from crystalizing in the urine and forming stones.

Today's Health Hint—Paint the top and bottom steps of your basement stairs so they can be seen easily.

Disarm Seminar Set At College

A nine-session seminar on the problems of disarmament and strengthening the United Nations will begin Wednesday at 8 p.m. in room 37 at College of Marin.

The seminar, sponsored by the Marin County Chapter of the United World Federalists, will continue on Oct. 23 and 30, Nov. 12 and 27, Dec 11 and Jan. 8, 22 and 29. Those interested should write or call E. Z. Lewis Jr., chapter secretary, Box 543, Ross.

Three books must be purchased by those enrolling.

Car Hits Guard Rail; Tiburon Man Injured

Michael Stumpf, 33, of 26 Circle Drive, Tiburon, was treated for a bruised hip early today at Marin General Hospital after his car hit a guard rail on Highway 101, one-fourth mile north of Spencer Avenue, at 1:20 a.m.

The California Highway Patrol said Stumpf changed lanes too quickly while northbound and lost control of his car.

Little Theater Winners Named

Winners in the Sausalito Little Theater's third annual original drama workshop were announced today by chairman Abe Kalish.

They are: Jackson Burgess, Berkeley, for his play, "Snakes;" Carly deFaria, Orinda, "Majorcan Games;" Bruce Feld, New York City, "The Dream Syndrome;" D. J. Coombs, San Francisco, "Capriccio;" Mark Berman, Madison, Wis., "Old Folks at Home" and James Lineberger, Minneapolis, "Conjure Man." Winners share $250 in award money, according to Joan LaFontaine, publicity chairman.

The one-act plays, selected from over 300 entries, will be presented at the theater in January.

U.S. Helps To Kill Off Melon Flies

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sterilizing male melon flies as a method of eliminating the insect pests has been extended by government experts on the Pacific island of Rota.

First sterilizing a large number of males by using gamma rays, the experts released them to mate with unsuspecting females which later had no desire to mate with normal males. Eggs born of the arranged matings do not hatch and the species dies out.

Boating Laws Talk

New legislation affecting boating laws and activities for the rest of the year will be discussed at a meeting of the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Stinson Beach Community Center.

'OLD TOWN' SHOPPING CENTER—Fifteen to 20 shops will be constructed starting this month in the Hurricane Gulch service center at Valley and Second streets, Sausalito. It will be the first such shopping center in "Old Town." Owner Marian Warnick Frick of Sausalito said shops may include a bakery, beauty shop, liquor store, shoe repair, automatic laundry and dry cleaning business plus offices. She could not estimate cost of the one to three story development which is to open in January.

Shop Center Planned At Hurricane Gulch

Construction is expected to begin by the end of the month on the Hurricane Gulch service center on Valley and Second streets, Sausalito. The center is expected to open in January.

Mrs. Marian Warnick Frick, owner, said today the 10,000-square-foot center will have 15 to 20 shops, depending on square footage required by lessees. The shops, each having access by covered balcony, are in staggered levels, one to three stories in height.

Richard J. Hiatt of Mill Valley designed the building which will have a redwood and brick exterior and a shingle roof. Offstreet parking will handle 20 cars.

Mrs. Frick said she is seeking types of businesses such as a beauty shop, automatic laundry and dry cleaning, barber shop, liquor store, shoe repair, delicatessen and bakery. The top floor, she said, is suitable for professional offices.

She said she believes the development will "fill a need which has long been felt in the south side of the city."

He's Clipped Many Soldiers

HONOLULU (AP)—An Army barber got VIP treatment from 1,000 soldiers ranging from colonels to privates when he completed 30 years of haircutting at Schofield Barracks.

Cayetano Jimeno, 54, proudly strutted down an aisle formed of flags of 50 states, escorted by William A. McKean, commander of the 25th Division's 27th Infantry, to receive his citation.

Then he walked to a quadrangle where the troops watched him cut a huge birthday cake. It was on his birthday in 1933 that "Jimmy" began clipping hair for GIs at Schofield, and he's been there ever since.

Beer License Brews Mixup

DALLAS (UPI) — A not-particularly romantic couple walked up to the marriage license bureau window and asked for the customary papers.

The clerk asked them for proof of a blood test. The woman fumed. She never heard of such a thing. Furthermore, she said, she didn't want her companion's name on the license.

Some diplomatic questioning disclosed that the couple was married. They were after a license to operate a beer tavern.

Virgin Mary's Place Debated At Council

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The place of the Virgin Mary in the Roman Catholic Church and the role of bishops in the hierarchy of the Holy See was debated privately today among prelates attending the second session of the Ecumenical Council.

The meeting was in weekend recess, but council sources reported that the conflict of opinion between liberal and conservative delegates is expected to become more sharply defined when it reconvenes Monday.

Lawyer Elected

Walter T. Winter of 34 Southridge Drive, Tiburon, has been elected as a fellow in the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers, a group made up of specialists in divorce law. Winter practices law in San Francisco.

Television Channel 13 Is Purchased

NEW YORK (UPI)—John W. Kluge, president of Metromedia, Inc., announced that a contract was signed yesterday for his firm's sale of television station KOVR, channel 13, Stockton-Sacramento, to the McClatchy newspapers for about eight million dollars.

Kluge said the transaction, which is subject to approval of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), was made to give Metromedia a chance to "upgrade (its) broadcast facilities through the acquisition of another television station in a larger metropolitan market..."

FCC rules limit ownership of television stations by any one firm to five very high frequency (VHF) and two ultra high frequency (UHF) stations. Metromedia now is the licensee of VHF stations in New York, Los Angeles, Washington and Kansas City, and of UHF stations in Peoria and Decatur, Ill.

Yacht Club Is Seeking Riprap

The Marin Yacht Club is seeking permission to place riprap on the bank of its property off San Pedro Road, San Rafael.

The riprap would be placed along a 1,200-foot stretch of land on Goose Neck Bend on the San Rafael Canal.

Objections to the plan may be submitted in triplicate by Nov. 3 to the Corps of Engineers, 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

Foster Parents Due Miss Presley Talk

Betty Presley, Marin County welfare director, will speak at a meeting of the Marin County Foster Parents Assn. at 8 p.m. today in Room 336 of the Civic Center.

New officers of the association for the fall season are: Richard Stephens of Mill Valley, president; John Semorile of San Rafael, treasurer; James Chapman of Mill Valley, membership chairman; Mrs. Willa Quillen of Corte Madera, refreshment chairman, and Mrs. Roderick Grimes of Novato, special projects.

Mill Valley Fire Rules Announced

Persons living in Mill Valley who wish to burn trash in incinerators must either telephone or go to the fire department for a permit, Henry Pierroz, fire prevention officer, said today. Open burning is not permitted.

Permits are issued to burn in incinerators from 7 to 11 a.m. daily, weather permitting.

Beef Live Tipsy Life In Japan

TOKYO (UPI)—Japan's beef cattle have a tipsy life of ease and comfort right up to the moment they get the slaughterhouse pole-axe.

They literally stagger to their death—hiccoughing happily on good Japanese beer, their yards of filet supple from daily massages by their devoted owners.

Daily beer and massages are part of the loving care lavished by the Japanese farmer in preparing beef on the hoof for steaks.

The result is steak of a flavor and succulence that delights every visitor to Japan.

Now Americans—besides the tourists who reach these shores—are going to get a cut at Japanese steaks.

Japan has been given the go-ahead to ship its prize beef to the dinner tables of America.

A stumbling block was lifted recently when the U.S. Agriculture Department ruled that Japan is free of foot and mouth disease and rinderpest, an intestinal disorder peculiar to sheep and cattle.

U.S. connoisseurs of steaks will be watching restaurant and butcher shop windows for a sign long familiar here—"Kobe best beef you can buy in Japan.

Kobe is a large and busy seaport on the south coast of Honshu, largest of Japan's five major islands.

It was to meet the demands of shipping companies — and the tastes of the many foreigners who swarm through Kobe—that a cattle industry developed in the area.

Most of the beef that went into the food lockers of ships was from one-year-old cattle.

They got much of the loving-care treatment, but the older a steer got, the better was his lot, and some are kept as long as four and a half years.

His final year is the most enjoyable. His diet, carefully weighed and prepared, consists of naked barley mornings and evenings. In the final stages of fattening for the market, he gets wheat bran, then a concentration of feed.

And if his appetite falls off, up goes his daily ration of beer — and sometimes Japanese whiskey—to stimulate his hunger. His head is pulled back and the brew simply poured down his throat from the bottle.

He beds down in a spotless barn and he can look forward each day to a brushdown and a massage.

And when he is ready to meet his executioner, the well-groomed steer is given a final tot to relax him.

It is a complicated and often expensive treatment that only the well-off farmer can afford.

And it reflects in the wholesale price of Kobe and Matsuzaka (a nearby district) beef—650 yen a kilogram, or $1.73 for 2.2 pounds. Wholesale price of top grade beef in Chicago is about $1.08 for 2.2 pounds. Kobe beef would likely sell in the United States for 800 yen a kilogram, or $2.16 for 2.2 pounds, agriculture officials say here.

Characteristics of the meat are thin white lines that give a choice piece the appearance of marble.

Because of the price, Japan doesn't expect to put its quality beef in every U.S. restaurant and butcher shop—but it will be available in more expensive places.

Looking west from over the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge, the most prominent feature is nearby Point San Quentin which divides San Rafael on the right from the communities of Greenbrae, Larkspur and Corte Madera. To the immediate right of the point is the Marin Rod and Gun Club's fishing pier. To the left is San Quentin Prison.

To the right along the shore of the bay is the lagoon, containing three islands, which will be available for use by residents of the San Rafael Cayes project. Leading up into the city is the San Rafael Canal. Francisco Boulevard, from the bridge, leads into Highway 101 which cuts across the center of the picture.

Corte Madera Creek winds its crooked path up into the Ross Valley in the center of the photograph, separating Greenbrae on one side from Larkspur. Closeby is Redwood High School standing out in the open.

Beyond the top of Mount Tamalpais is the vague outline of Duxbury Point near Bolinas. A cloud cover is hovering over the West Marin coastline. Bon Tempe and Alpine lakes, above Ross, are nestled into the foothills of Mount Tamalpais.

The photograph shows the pattern, progressing from east to west Marin, of light industrial and commercial areas, giving way to housing tracts in the level areas, residential areas on the hillsides and the bare tops of hills and the vacant watershed lands of the Marin Municipal Water District, for which plans are being drawn for inclusion in the state park system. (Aero Photographers)

A FAMILIAR FACE to hundreds of Marin families who have bought homes with her aid, Marin real estate saleswoman Aline LeBas pauses on terrace of B. N. Poetz house on the ridge above Del Mesa. She has sold the property and the house several times during a career which spans three decades. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

A Top Saleswoman— Realty Her Realm For Over 30 Years

One of a series of articles on Marin's working women.

"Selling real estate was quite different then," says Aline LeBas, who has been transacting sales of homes and properties in Marin for three decades.

When she first began in the business 30 years ago, she recalls that "realtors were suspicious of each other and guarded their listings carefully, resisting the idea of multiple listing.

"OF COURSE we know now it's the best thing that could happen and it benefits us all. It brought about stricter laws, better ethics, more cooperation," says the saleswoman who enjoys doing "extras" for her clients such as tracking down used furniture, and chauffering for their errands.

KNOWN THROUGHOUT the county, Mrs. LeBas will be honored for her years of service in real estate when friends and business associates gather Wednesday for luncheon of the Marin County Real Estate Board at the Meadow Club.

"I doubt if you can find another saleswoman who has worked that long in real estate in the county . . ." says the head of her firm, Charles Howard Allen, "And she's still going strong."

A VIRGINIAN, Mrs. LeBas met her husband, Harry LeBas—also a real estate salesman with Frank Howard Allen and Son—in a Paris canteen after the World War I armistice when he was attached to the Peace Commission and she was a member of the YWCA canteen corps.

They returned to California to live and her husband was with Standard Oil Co. They moved to Marin in 1925 and used to take Sunday hikes through what was known as the Hotaling Ranch, now Del Mesa.

"We'd walk over the ridge from our San Rafael apartment and take the train home from Ross," Aline recalls. "It was beautiful land . . ."

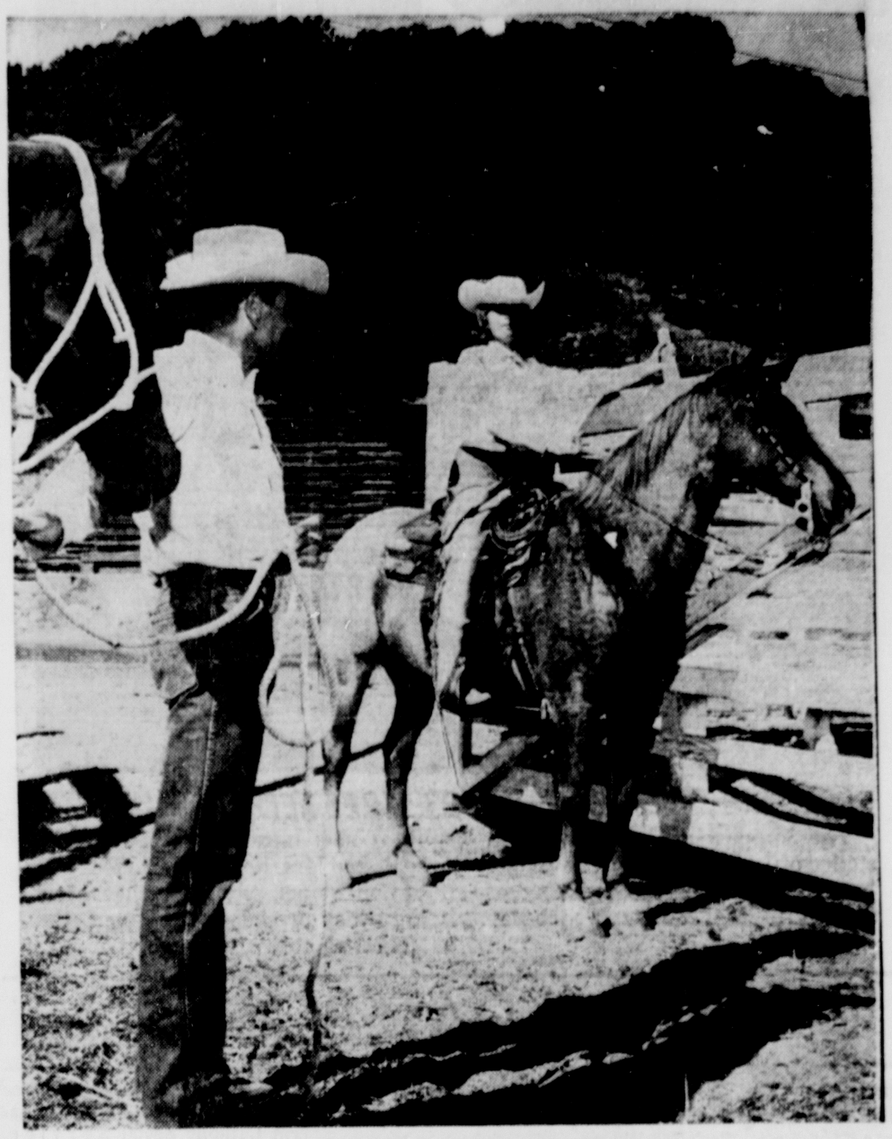

AT THAT TIME she found herself involved in various organizations and charity drives and finally she decided to go to work. Her first venture was a magazine agency, which involved some 60 boys. "They were wonderful young men—not a bit of trouble with any of them; two are bankers today, a couple more are executives."

In the course of business she often encountered Richard Tissot, who urged her to go into real estate, and she joined his firm.

"There were about 20 real estate firms in the county then, compared to 200 today, and since it was during the depression, there were few home sales—most of the business involved rentals," she says.

Marin Women

Chilean Leader Here Today Studying Marin Organizations

Mrs. Sotero Del Rio, wife of the Chilean Minister of the Interior and a participant in the U.S. State Department's foreign leader exchange program, is visiting in Marin today.

Mrs. M. Justin Herman, vice chairman of the Sausalito People-to-People program, took Mrs. Del Rio to visit Betty L. Presley, county welfare director, and to the American Red Cross, Marin County Chapter, both in San Rafael.

The visitor will be a guest at tea at the home of Mrs Van Treat and at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs Alan Scurfield tonight in Sausalito.

She has been invited to attend the People-to-People Committee meeting tonight at the Sausalito Woman's Club.

Mrs. Del Rio, is president of the Chilean United Nations Assn. and president of the Red Cross chapter in her home city of La Florida.

Card Party Set

Woodwardia Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, will give a dessert luncheon and card party on Wednesday at Odd Fellows Temple in San Rafael, announces Mrs. Ada Kane, chairman.

The luncheon will be served from noon to 1 p.m., to the public.

Junior Dances Set To Begin In Sausalito

Junior dances, sponsored by the Sausalito Woman's Club, will begin on Oct. 11, at 7:30 p.m., at the clubhouse.

Open to all seventh and eighth graders living in Sausalito, the dances are a feature of the club's community projects. This year they will be held on the second Friday of each month excepting March because of the Lenten season. The first dance of the season will have a Halloween theme with prizes for the best costumes.

Mrs. John Connors Jr. is chairman assisted by Mesdames Richard Cruikshank and George Kowski.

Library Friends Plan Book Sale

The Sausalito Friends of the Library will stage a county-wide book sale Saturday on the plaza in front of the Sausalito Branch of the Bank of America.

Childrens' books, fiction, technical and reference books, mysteries and books on music and art will be featured along with a number of old Eitii editions and papers.

Mrs. Medford J. Schwarz is chairman assisted by Mesdames Donald J. Duncan, president; A. W. Gallagher, Charles Ashley, L. Stuart Linton and Missy Camp.

Proceeds will go to services of the Friends of the Library.

Organ Recital Set

June Melendy, who appears on the Jack LaLanne television show, will give an organ recital at the meeting of the Hammond Organ Society 8 p.m. tomorrow at 1029 C Street, San Rafael.

THE NEW COLLAR LOOK

A long Bertha collar falling in a point to the knees and edged in organza ruffles is the eye-catching feature of this chiffon afternoon gown from the collection of Simonetta and Fabiani, shown in Paris. A fabulous diamond flower, from Cartier, breaks the barren look of the top. (AP Wirephoto)

SERVICE PROJECTS SET

Volunteer, Home Activities Concern Medic Unit President

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Marin Medical Society has as president this year a person who combines the qualities of housewife and mother of five with those of an energetic community volunteeer.

Mrs C. Ray Leininger focuses her life on her family and its many activities. When not sewing for herself or daughters, Debbie, 10, and Bettie, 9, she gets in a few sets of tennis with husband Ray or sons Brad, 14, and Greg, 12. She enjoys piano duets with the children or a day of swimming or golf. All of the Leiningers enjoy their bicycles, including six year old Dougie.

MRS. LEININGER

IT WAS THESE year-round outdoor activities that drew the Leiningers from Chicago to California in 1950. After a tour in Korea and three years doing work in pediatrics and cariology, Dr. Leininger began the practice of pediatrics in Marin. Both Leiningers are natives of Rexburg, Id., where Mrs Leininger attended schools before receiving her degree in English Literature at the University of Utah.

She continues to be active in the alumnae group of Chi Omega and as well as the Peter Pan Chapter of the Children's Home Society. Putting in her hours in the usual Girl Scout, Cub Scout, and P-TA activities and neighborhood drives, Lo Donna has reserved most of her free time for teaching theology and literature in the women's group and singing in the women's chorus of the Mormon Church.

MRS. LEININGER'S auxiliary offices have included Today's Health chairman, first vice president, and president-elect. This year she hopes to continue the efforts to reach all the members in the fast-growing organization, and has initiated the "Stethescoop," a newsletter for members.

She also plans to emphasize the service activities, which are —the GEMS course which teaches groups of teenage girls the skills of baby-sitting; the health careers program which gives scholarship aid to five Marin girls in schools of nursing in the Bay Area; and support of the Marin Blood Bank where Auxiliary members put in hours calling donors for appointments.

United Nation Issues To Be Discussed At Luncheon

"The United Nations Today" will be the subject of Lt. Col. Helen Bouffier at the home day buffett salad and sandwich luncheon of the Mill Valley Outdoor Art Club to be held Oct. 10 at 12:30 p.m.

In her talk Colonel Bouffier will cover the issues now before the General Assembly of the United Nations. Among these are the questions of disarmament, the atomic bomb and the peace keeping machinery of the United Nations.

Colonel Bouffier is currently serving on the board of directors of the American Assn. of the United Nations and the steering committee of Great Decisions. As logistics officer, she served 17 years with the U. S. Army.

Since retiring from the Army, Colonel Bouffier has been a leader in calling attention to the aptitudes of women for advanced management positions. In this connection, she is conducting a series of seminars in the USF Management Development Center.

Chairman for the luncheon is Mrs. Fred W. Peters Jr. assisted by Mesdames Le Roy Everett, Mary Keene, John Nahapiet and Mary Stern-

Bonsai Nurseryman To Be Club Speaker

Harvey K. Suzuki of Berkeley will be guest speaker at the Novato Garden Club meeting tomorrow at the Community House. Suzuki, owner of a bonsai nursery, will describe the art of bonsai.

Mesdames Sam Marzell, E. N. Kingsland, Baxter Hovis, Ruth Moscrop, Fred Anderson and H. E. Beadle will be hostesses. The meeting will follow a noon tea.

Song Composer Is Guest In Novato

The Charles P. Davies of Indian Valley Ranch, Novato, have had as house guests for a few days Leigh Harline and his wife, Anne, of Southern California. Harline, a music composer, won a double academy award in 1940 for his song, "When You Wish Upon A Star" and for his score for the film Pinocchio. One of his most recent musical scores was for "The Wonderful World of Brothers Grimm."

Plans Made For Girl's Program

Marin City Communiyt Services District is sponsoring a girl's night program for girls aged eight to 12 to be held 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Monday in the Community Center gymnasium, manager Harry N. Bailey said today.

The first girl's night will be Monday, directed by Terri Zabala of Tiburon, and will include activities such as handball, badminton, table tennis and dodge ball.

FURNISHING IDEAS

Broadened cultural interests, increased travel and the popular trend toward individuality is reflected in Thomasville's new Shalimar Collection. The bunching tables shown above are rapidly taking the place of the cocktail table and the shadows created by a light under the top glass shelf in the bookcases make a dramatic showcase for a cherished collection. There is a great freedom of expression in all of the new Shalimar pieces.

Christina Lee Hyatt Is Wed At Novato Church Saturday

Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Christina Lee Hyatt and Michael Joseph Burrill. The Rev. Arthur Harrison performed the double ring ceremoney.

Christina, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs Phillip W. Hyatt of Novato, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie and lace with a chapel train.

Her maid of honor was Barbara Garris of Mill Valley. Mrs Lawrence J. Kane of Daly City, Mrs Richard C. Hudgins of Sacramento and Karen Cook of Oakland were bridesmaids. All the attendants wore short length dresses of persimmon irridescent satin. Catherine Hyatt, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

Michael had as best man his brother Richard of Sacramento, and ushers were his brother, Gregory, Tom Christian and Douglas Metcalfe, all of Marinwood.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs Richard J. Burrill of Marinwood, is the brother of Mrs. Julius Goffo, Mrs. Robert S. Robinson, Mrs Michael Bronk, Richard Jr., and Gregory, Lila and Philip Burrill of Marinwood. He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs James Burrill and the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Redmond.

Michael was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin and Golden Gate University in San Francisco. He is employed at Bakke Steamship Co. in San Francisco.

Christina was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and is employed at the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco. She is the sister of Catherine and Michael Hyatt of Novato and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs Carl Barber of Mill Valley and the late Phillip W. Hyatt.

Following a reception at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio the young couple left for a wedding trip to Yosemite National Park.

Tax Panel Set For Reed District Meet

The tax election scheduled for Oct. 22 will be the subject of the first general meeting of the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club Oct. 15 at 8 p.m. at the Reed School.

Four local citizens will discuss the election and answer questions. On the panel are Henry J. Broderick, chairman of the citizens finance study committee; John McChesney, member of the citizens study committee; Mrs. Erwin Farkas, chairman board of trustees, and Berton Jacobson, co-chairman citizen's tax election committee. Edward Ward, member of the finance study committee, will

Carol Lynn Brown Set Wedding To Thomas Kordik In November

A WEDDING is being planned next month by Carol Lynn Brown and Thomas G. Kordik at Holy Innocents Church in Corte Madera.

Planning a November wedding are Carol Lynn Brown and Thomas George Kordik whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs Richard Brown of Corte Madera. The ceremony will take place Nov. 9 at Holy Innocents Church in Corte Madera.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs Harold Kordik of Mill Valley. Paul Kordik of Fairfax is his brother and he is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kordik of Chicago and the late Mr. and Mrs Edwin Schutzher also of Chicago.

Carol has two sisters, Mrs James McIntyre of Millbrae and Mrs Ronald Bradley of San Anselmo. Her grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Jens Hansen of Clear Lake and the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Brown of Ohio.

A graduate of Redwood High School, Carol attended College of Marin and is presently working for dentists in Kentfield. Thomas attended Tamalpais High School and is now employed at the Alpine Market in Fairfax.

Picture Council Preview Set

Tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the Tamalpais Theater, the members and guests of the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council will preview one of the outstanding films of the season, the committee has announced. Following the preview there will be a "Grab and Gab" session in Huxley Hall of the Methodist Church in San Rafael, to evaluate the preview.

Plans will be discussed for the forthcoming benefit show to be held at the Tamalpais Theater on Nov. 19, when for the first time in Marin County the film, "Question 7" will be shown three times: at 4:30, 7:00 and 9 p.m.

121—Used Cars for Sale

Creampuffs '62 Buick Skylarks $2695

Here are two of the hardest-to-find used cars on the market today. They are Buick's best seller by far. Both are locally-owned trade-ins that we took in on new '64 Buicks.

One is jet-black with fire engine red all-leather interior. Fully equipped including power steering, power seat, power brks and power windows. A really beautiful car that has had exceptional care by its only owner. Low mileage.

The other is midnight blue with white top. Blue bucket seats and upholstery. Not a mark of wear anywhere on the car. Power steering, automatic, radio, heater, w/w tires and all the Buick luxury items. Sold new and serviced by us since.

Competition Helps Savers Spenders

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Competition can be a boon to savers as well as to the spenders it usually is credited with helping. For consumers competition is supposed to hold down prices. For savers it can boost the rewards.

And many who could put aside a few dollars from the weekly paycheck have been able of late to get higher yields —up to five per cent from some Southern California savings institutions.

This is thanks to the competition among the many havens for savings—and also thanks to the increasing number of those who borrow. Where borrowers multiply, savers prosper — if things don't go too far. Some warnings about that are being made now by federal agencies.

Increased interest rates, both on some forms of loans and for the savings from which loans are made, have also been influenced by international politics in today's complicated world of finance.

The U.S. government has encouraged higher rates on some forms of savings, to keep money at home rather than letting it go abroad where foreigners already have too many surplus dollars for our comfort when it comes to settling international payments.

But mostly, savers have been wooed because the demand for mortgages, installment loans and other forms of credit—particularly in fast growing areas of the nation —has been so insistent that lending institutions were competing for available funds.

Competition to raise money for the mortgage market in Southern California has led several savings and loans associations to raise dividends to five per cent. This has brought an expression of concern from Joseph P. McMurray, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which regulates federally chartered associations. He says "hasty rate increases" might lead to federal restrictions.

His worry is that payment of five per cent to savers can be assured only by continued heavy demand for mortgages paying higher interest. The government doesn't want building slowed by too expensive financing.

But Frank B. Yeilding Jr., president of the U.S. Savings and Loan League, says that record mortgage lending by the nation's associations has eliminated the excess supply of savings funds they held earlier this year.

Mortgage demand varies from region to region. But lenders insist that increasing population means still greater demand for housing.

Competition for savings—and for profitable loans—has been growing among many other forms of savings institutions. Commercial banks have been paying more on time deposits, and in many places savings banks have been raising their returns.

This, plus the retirement of many small investors from the stock market, swelled lendable funds.

Council Starts Second Week

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council began the second week of its current session today with representatives of many Orthodox churches still missing from their reserved seats in St. Peter's Basilica.

Nine days ago, a pan-Orthodox conference on the Greek island of Rhodes agreed to establish contacts with the Vatican to encourage the cause of Christian unity.

It was left to the 11 participating churches to decide individually if observers should be sent to the council. Four were reported to oppose sending observers.

Four Are Rescued, Fish Boat Sinks

SAN PEDRO (AP)— Nine persons, including two paraplegics, were rescued yesterday when a 36-foot fishing boat sprang a leak and sank six miles offshore.

The survivors were picked up within 10 minutes by two nearby boats.

The cripples, Roland Curwick, 27, and Thomas Neimeyer, 27, both of Gardena, were co-owners of the sunken boat, the Antelope.

Curwick, Neimeyer and seven others were listed in good conditioin in St. Mary's Hospital in Long Beach.

The crew aboard the stricken craft fired four flares before the Antelope went down.

Two Old Foes Meet, And One Of Them Dies

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two Bronx youths who had not met since they had a fight two years ago encountered each other in a bar Saturday. They fought again.

Police said that Michael Scannell, 18, was killed when he went through a plate glass window in the course of the scuffle. Shards of glass penetrated his stomach. Peter McWade, 18, was charged with homicide.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

100 Different Diseases Transmitted To Man From Pet Birds And Animals

VAN DELLEN

If our animal population continues to increase, the two-dog-family will be as common as the two-car family. According to Dr. Hugh A. Carithers of Jacksonville, Fla., there are 30 million dogs, 35 million cats, and 20 million caged birds in the United States. Many people are concerned when they learn that 100 different diseases can be transmitted to man from these birds and animals.

But the majority are extremely rare, including rabies. Cat-scratch fever, salmonellosis, and fungal infections are the most frequent. But these diseases seldom are transmitted thru the bite of an animal or a bird.

THIS SPRING and summer we had an epidemic of food poisoning due to salmonella organisms. From March 1 to July 8, 775 cases were reported from 25 states and the District of Columbia. The problem was concentrated largely in the northeastern portion of the country and 601 of the cases were classified as hospital associated infections.

Authorities suspected at first that the epidemic was spread thru contact with infected persons, such as between patient and hospital personnel. They also explored the possibility that the cause was a common treatment or diagnostic procedure. But both factors were excluded and contaminated food remained as the most logical source of poisoning.

STUDY DISCLOSED that the first hospitalized patients were on restricted diets when they developed food poisoning. This suggested contaminated eggs or other poultry products as hospital diets usually include raw or undercooked eggs. These items also happen to be notorious sources of salmonella infections.

The search was narrowed to two egg farms that could have supplied certain hospitals with eggs. The organisms were found in one sample of chicken feed and four pooled samples of cracked eggs in one area. This became the basis for the warning to avoid buying and using cracked or unclean eggs.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

THYROID FOR LIFE

Mrs. A. C. writes: If a child is born with a deficient thyroid gland and has to take thyroid pills, is there any chance this condition will be outgrown?

REPLY

Thyroid extract, as substitute therapy, must be given continuously. But the dosage may need altering at different periods of life, such as at puberty and during the reproductive years.

HYSTERIA

S. G. writes: Is there any type of neuritis that is associated with hysteria?

REPLY

Many hysterics develop symptoms that mimic neuritis with severe pain or even paralysis. In addition, some claim to be blind or deaf. But special tests usualy detect hysteria because symptoms are not in keeping with the real McCoy.

CONVEX NAVEL

Mrs. F. writes: What would make the navel protrude instead of being indented in a mother of three?

REPLY

The navel usually retracts when it heals shortly after birth. The exceptions have a protruding navel. Protrusion may occur later in life, especially after several pregnancies.

HAIR AND GLANDS

C. W. writes: Could an overactive thyroid cause hair on a lady's face, arms and chest?

REPLY

Not as a rule, unless the thyroid upsets the glandular balance of the body.

Mental Patients Receive Lessons In Psychiatry

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Even today," said Dr. Henry C. Everett, "some medical practitioners tend to view themselves as an inner circle of wise men possessing secrets of great power and profundity.

"Hence, such knowledge is not to be imparted to ordinary people, and especially not to patients, lest they should misunderstand, misuse or be confused by it."

That was his preamble to describing his experiment with mental patients at Mendota State Hospital, Madison, Wis., where he is director of research. The experiment was to teach some psychiatry to the persons psychiatry was trying to benefit.

"Pyschiatry still retains some of its priestly trappings, perhaps to conceal self-doubt," he said in his report to a technical organ of the American Psychiatric Assn. Rationalizations include the notion that psychiatric knowledge might somehow be overwhelmingly upsetting to a mental patient, or might tempt him to the sin of 'intellectual' trespassing into the psychiatrist's field."

Everett gave 10 lessons. The patients volunteered for the education and the average class numbered 15 There was a high proportion of paranoids, since "paranoids often comprise the most intellectual and politically inclined element among long-term mental hospital patients."

The teacher began on a personal note. He told his students "how my own feelings and self-doubts led to curiosity about psychiatry, and how this curiosity developed from suspicious —awe to a passionate interest." Everett said it helped the pupils to be thus "unorthdox and personal."

From lesson to lesson, he told the patients how mental health professions are trained and what they do. He explained there were three types of psychiatric treatment — physical, pharmacological and psychology.

He outlined the psychoanalytic theories of there being an unconscious segment of mind which exercises controlling influences, in the mentally normal as well as the mentally ill. Then he went on to detail "the prevalence of sexual anxiety in our culture."

His pupils were very attentive, he said. They could interrupt with questions whenever they wished, and there were "lively group discussions." As the lessons progressed, there were more and more volunteer pupils.

At the end of the course seven pupils filled out a questionnaire intended to evaluate what they had gotten from it. Six said it had done them "much good" and the seventh checked, "a little good." Four said they now were "more willing" to accept psychiatric treatment, one was "less willing" and two checked the word "neither."

One question asked the pupils if they believed people were often "railroaded unjustly" into the hospital. Five checked, yes." One checked "no" and the seventh didn't reply.

One of the most popular lessons centered on "the universality of sexual secrets and conflicts, and about the bigotry of society toward sexual variations," Everett said. "Any fear that such discussion might cause undesirable 'panic' reactions was not borne out."

Couple Break Off Vacation For Cats

LONDON (UPI) — Sir John Smyth and his wife said today they broke off their vacation on Majorca and flew back to London because their two Siamese cats fell ill.

"The fact that we were at their bedside helped them to recover," Sir John said. "The Siaimese is the most intelligent animal I have ever come across. They can very nearly talk, you know."

SNOWBOUND HUNTER

Councilman Pozzi Back From Wilds

Councilman Everett Pozzi of Novato, back from a hunting trip in British Columbia with several trophies and 1,500 feet of movie film, is telling fellow councilmen what it's like to be snowbound.

He and his companions were snowbound for five days. The temperature outside their tent dropped to 10 below zero.

After his first day of hiking into the remote camp at Pink Mountain near the Yukon territory, Pozzi discovered that he was not in condition. But he got in condition in a hurry and was soon running around the mountains "like a goat," he said.

He found when he got home that he had lost 12 pounds.

On that first day of hunting, he shot a mountain goat, but it was standing on a high point and fell down a slope. The horns were broken, so it was no good for a trophy.

From his first day in camp, the group lived on moose meat.

"It was delicious, and I couldn't tell it from beef," Pozzi said.

However, Mrs. Pozzi had a different idea. It was too strong—much too strong for her refrigerator. He brought back two moose loins, but was unable to get dry ice to pack them home. After a four-day return trip, the moose was ripe. He put the loins in the refrigerator anyway. Mrs. Pozzi was gone when he got home, but when she returned, the moose loins went into the garbage.

"They smelled up the whole house," she said.

When Pozzi arrived in the camp he asked why the name Pink Mountain. He was told that when the first frost hits, it turns a particular shrub a pink.

"Sure enough, before we left, the mountain was a mass of pink," he said.

When they were snowbound for five days, he said, he almost went "stir crazy," in the tent. So he went outside and started building a snowman.

"The others joined me and boy did we build some snowman," he said.

He brought home a set of moose antlers 57 inches across and caribou antlers nearly six feet high.

Pozzi, who took a trip to Africa two years ago, now has his sights on Alaska hunting.

"Now that I know I can take the cold, I want to go to Alaska," he said.

Corte Madera Council Faces Controversies

A four page agenda loaded with controversies faces the Corte Madera town council for its meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in town hall.

Leading off, said Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow, will be public hearings on:

1. A planning commission recommendation to rezone the old quarry site west of Highway 101 from apartment to duplex.

2. Whether the council should reconsider its 2-1 vote of Aug. 19 to permit a pharmacy to be added to the uses of the Bank of America building in a professional-administrative zone at 665 Tamalpais Drive.

Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis will report on the status of a suit by Kaehler-Farrar Development, Inc., which has submitted three sets of plans, all rejected by the planning commission, to build apartments in the quarry site.

Superior Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. halted action by the council to rezone the area Sept. 17 with a temporary restraining order. If rezoning is still tied up by legal action Mayor Edward W. Colthurst will order that no testimony be taken at the public hearing and that the hearing be continued.

On the pharmacy matter Councilman Norman R. Barnett and Charles F. Pendleton favored the added use, Mayor Colthurst dissenting and Councilmen Robert I. La Dow and Albert E. Kogler were absent. The matter is being brought up anew in event the council wishes to vote again.

Application by Robert Vogel for the pharmacy is opposed by two other Corte Madera pharmacists.

Councilman Barnett will report on findings by the public works committee on a charge by the Town Employees Assn. that public works Supt. Walter E. Nagel is discriminating against a majority of his employees by giving them only four hours time off for weekend standby service at their phones.

The council will discuss a letter of Sept. 26 from Herbert I. Vernet of 447 Tamalpais Drive, director of the Corte Madera Sanitary District Board, complaining against teen dances given on weekends at the Corte Madera Recreation Center across the street from his home.

San Rafael School Board To Consider Contract For Shed

The San Rafael Board of Education apparently is going to have to shell out $2,525 more than anticipated for an equipment shed at the San Rafael High School campus.

Board members favored a pre-fabricated metal shed at a cost of $3,892, but the San Rafael City Planning Commission wouldn't approve it.

At tomorrow's meeting at 7:30 p.m., the school board will consider awarding a $6,417 contract for a concrete block shed. Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross was apparent low bidder for the job.

The board also will discuss the appointment of a vice principal at San Rafael High School and the admission of older kindergarten pupils to the first grade as permitted by law.

Job Placements Hit 651 Mark

Job placements made through the San Rafael office of the State Department of Employment in September were 651, the second highest for that month.

A year ago 560 persons were placed during September in jobs. The increase was attributed to one company's large job order and a general increase in most industries, mostly retail sales, according to Edwin W. Ayer, head of the office.

Unemployment benefits were claimed at the rate of 580, compared to 550 in September, 1962. Ayer said jobs are not being created fast enough to keep up with the increase in the work force.

Chair Kennedy Sat In May Be Auctioned

REDDING (UPI) — The chair used by President John F. Kennedy at dedication ceremonies for the Whiskeytown Dam and Reservoir last week might be sold to the highest bidder.

Directors of the Redding Chamber of Commerce Saturday approved giving the high-back chair to the Lassen Council of the Boy Scouts of America. The Scouts haven't said what they will do with it, but the directors believe it may be auctioned.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

Realtor Louise V. Walsh Planning To Open New Office In San Rafael

Realtor Louise V. Walsh who has maintained her offices at 735 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, for the past 12 or 13 years was scheduled to open at her new location at 1422 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, today.

She'll go in with a staff of four salespeople, but has the room to add more—which she will probably do. Purpose of the move is to be closer to North Marin properties she is handling.

ANOTHER MOVE SOON — Phyllis Steckel, Beth Levin and Sally Gray (the blonde, brunette and redhead principals of Regal Realty) have purchased the building at 1722 Fifth Ave, San Rafael, and plan on remodeling it into plush new offices.

WILLIAM SWAIN of San Rafael has joined the sales staff of the McNear Co. He was formerly associated with the Basalt Rock Co. as a technical representative. Swain has been in the construction field and in engineering for a number of years.

DEALERS SOUGHT. Bay Area distributor Robert Olsen (975 Glenbar Avenue, Sunnyvale) for the new Porta-Power portable electric generator is seeking Marin dealerships. The device, only 32 pounds and no larger than a standard auto-larger than a standard automotive generator, turns any automobile or truck into a portable power plant with a flick of a dashboard switch. Output is 3,300 watts of 110 AC current. Unit is mounted piggy-back on the vehicle's regular DC generator.

MOTORCRAFT. Award for introduction day turnout for 1964 model cars seems to go to Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael whose showrooms were jammed with about 3,00 people—mostly during the evening, according to manager Lou Concilio. That was Sept. 27 . . . "Clever Award" should be taken by Larry Brink Motors of Mill Valley, whose preview of Lincoln Continental, Mercury and Comet was a private Concours d'Elegance last week on the terrace of Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club . . . Oldsmobile has scheduled an initial 15 per cent increase in its 1964 West Coast production.

YOU CAN'T BEAT newspapers when it comes to selling merchandise or building a favorable image for the company that sells it, according to Orville W. Johler, vice president in charge of advertising for the more than 5,000 Independent Grocers' Alliance food stores.

He said 38 years experience had taught his firm the wisdom of spending 90 cents out of every dollar for advertising in newspapers. (The lion's share of all advertising money—29.7 per cent, went to newspapers last year).

MODERN DAY PIONEER. Davy Crockett, 24-year-old reputed direct descendant of the frontiersman, is said to have been the first person to move his family into the new community of San Marin. This Davy formerly lived in San Bruno and works for the Internal Revenue Department where, no doubt, he is an expert trapper.

Short Nutrition Course Slated

A short course in nutrition will be offered at the Civic Center starting Oct. 16.

The course is sponsored by the Nutrition Education Committee of the Marin Council of Community Services in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension Service.

Sessions will be held from 10 a.m. to noon for four Wednesdays in Room 400. Mrs. Virginia Porter, home advisor, will be the instructor.

Anyone planning to attend should notify the Farm Advisor's office, Room 420 at the Civic Center in advance.

Foundation Night Set In Sausalito

Cocktail parties at the Sausalito Yacht Club and the Sausalito Cruising Club, including entertainment, will mark Sausalito Foundation Night, Nov. 4.

The Sausalito Foundation, a non-profit organization created to help maintain the natural beauty and enhance the city's cultural and recreational resources, is sponsoring the event.

The Vernon Alley jazz group, guitarists Dale Romey and Harry Alto, and a five-piece dance orchestra will entertain.

Attending College

Joan King Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Hunt, 2767 Heatherstone Drive, Marinwood, is attending Portland University in Oregon as a freshman in liberal arts. She is a graduate of Presentation High School, San Francisco.

Airman In Germany

T/Sgt. Jerome T. Fancher Jr. of Fairfax, has arrived at the Bitburg Air Base in Germany for assignment with an Air Force unit in Europe. Fancher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Fancher Sr. of 3944 Earl Street, Fort Worth, Tex.

the truth about you

It's not always easy to learn the truth about yourself. But if you look deeply enough, you find the spiritual core of life that was once described to us for all time — "The kingdom of God is within you" (Luke 17:21). There's a one-hour public lecture coming on this subject. Title: "The Priceless Gift of Knowing Oneself," by Theodore Wallach of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. Everyone is welcome.

How's our brain-power coming ?

That's the kind of power Uncle Sam needs most. Brainpower develops our leaders. We must have these leaders to hold our rank in science, business and living standards.

But there's trouble ahead. The cost of leadership has gone up. Many colleges need new classrooms, laboratories, teachers.

To keep our brainpower coming, we must keep contributions going. College is America's best friend.

RODEO QUEEN — Virginia (Ginger) Armstrong has been chosen rodeo queen of the Grand National Rodeo Horse Show and Livestock Exposition at San Francisco's Cow Palace, Oct. 25 through Nov. 3. A student at Santa Rosa Junior College, she will take part in area events.

Aboard Carrier

Navy Airman Ronald J. Davies, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion L. Davies of 74 Morningsun Avenue, Mill Valley, is serving aboard the antisubmarine aircraft carrier Kearsarge which recently spent several days in Kahodate, a small Japanese port rarely visited by U.S. ships.

Congress Candidate Will Speak Thursday

George E. McCabe, one of the two announced candidates for the Democratic congressional nomination in the First California District, will make his first major address in Marin County Thursday.

McCabe's public appearance, at 8 p.m. at the county courthouse, will be sponsored by the Ross Valley Democratic Club.

McCabe, a Santa Rosa resident, is chairman of the division of education and psychology at Sonoma State College. The other announced candidate for the Democratic nomination for the seat held by Republican Donald H. Clausen of Crescent City is Merle Orchard, former Mendocino County district attorney. William Grader of Fort Bragg, who lost to Clausen in the special election of last Jan. 22, has not announced whether he will try the race again.

Forty-four years old, McCabe holds a doctor's degree from Columbia University and a bachelor's degree in economics from University of California. He was born in Napa.

He served in the army during World War II, and for five years thereafter worked for the California Youth Authority in Los Angeles County. He then joined the faculty of Teachers College, Columbia University, in the admissions and counselor training division. From there he moved to San Francisco State College and was made director of its branch campus in Santa Rosa. When Sonoma State College was established in 1961, he was made chairman of teacher education and director of extension services.

He is a member of the Sonoma County Democratic Central Committee. He is married and has four children.

Basic Seamanship Lessons Planned

Eight lessons in basic seamanship will be given in the San Rafael High School Little Theater by the Coast Guard Auxiliary, starting at 8 p.m., today.

The course will be given on Mondays for eight consecutive weeks. On completion of the course, a certificate will be awarded.

Drake High German Club Elects Officers

Steve Schultz has been elected president of the Sir Francis Drake High School German Club. Other officers are: Jan Shell, vice president; and Robert Pool, secretary-treasurer.

Plans are being made for a volley ball game with the French Club and dinner in San Francisco to be followed by a German movie.

Zoning On Hill Near Terra Linda To Be On Agenda

The San Rafael Planning Commission is expected to make a decision tomorrow on the proposed zoning for apartments of a hill near Nova Albion Way and Golden Hinde Boulevard in the Terra Linda area.

The first hearing on the proposal, Sept. 24, brought about 100 irritated residents from the area to the meeting to protest. Tuesday's meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. in city hall.

Also on the agenda is a hearing on a proposed change in the zoning ordinance specifying measurement standards for parking requirements.

The commission will consider a 72-unit apartment project planned by Kaehler-Farrar Development Co. for Canal, Novato and Larkspur streets, and architectural approval for the Red Kettle Restaurant in the Montecito Shopping Center.

Deadline On Vets

Veterans with dependent parents or parents of deceased veterans have until Oct. 31 to complete income questionnaires and return them to the Veterans Administration, according to J. V. Burdick, county service officer.
